New Tract Warns Young People Against Occult

Today, a whole generation is caught up in Satan's attempt to bring another layer of darkness into their lives. They flock to movies, TV shows about vampires and werewolves. They devour books about heroes who cast spells and attend schools

Several events in the last few weeks, have appeared as sign posts marking our approach to the “end of the age.” Europe has moved closer to becoming a single nation comprised of subordinate states. Jesuit educated Herman van Rompuy, Belgium Prime Minister, has been elected to a two and a half year term as the first full-time EU president. Formerly, rotating presidents from various EU countries served part time for only 6 months.

In his acceptance speech, Rompuy lost no time in revealing his viewpoint: “2009 is also the first year of global governance with the establishment of the G20 in the middle of the financial crisis.” And: “The climate conference in Copenhagen is another step toward the global management of our planet.” We know from Bible

Belief in Hell Good for the Economy

A recent report by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis concludes that a belief in hell is good for the economy. The report was based on studies that included 35 countries. Those with a wide-spread belief in punishment in the afterlife for sins committed, tended to have the highest standard of living.

It has long been obvious that corruption was the primary factor in keeping a country poor. Much of the population of Africa and Latin America suffer grinding poverty while a rich, corrupt leadership revels in luxury.

Haiti is a classic example. Widely considered the poorest country in the Western Hemisphere, millions of dollars have been poured into it by relief organizations. Yet there has been little improvement in the situation of the common people.

When one corrupt dictator, "Baby Doc" Duvalier, was sent packing, he showed up on the French Rivera driving a Lamborghini and paying $2,500 a night for dinner for his friends. Corruption had stolen the money that should have built roads, bridges and power plants necessary to support a growing economy.

Again, the Bible is right: "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." (Prov. 14:34). When we began legalizing sin, our prosperity came into jeopardy.

The Bible standard was cast aside to make drunkenness, abortion, homosexuality, and even gluttony acceptable. Instead of God seekers, we became pleasure seekers, as one author has put it: "Amusing ourselves to death."

Never before in history have so many people in a nation lived so well as we have. Righteousness has exalted us, but now, without revival, we are sliding into "reproach." But revivals in the past began in the common people, by a saturation of that teach how to gain power through satanic rituals. Simply searching for "vampire movies" in Google returns over 26 million hits.

For several decades, Chick Publications has spotlighted this rising tide of evil in our culture. Tracts like Bewitched?, Evil Eyes, The Unwelcome Guest and some of the tracts geared for Halloween have attempted to show God's view of the danger of toying with Satan's helpers.

The paperback books Lucifer Dethroned, Wicca and Blood on the Doorposts by William Schnoebelen detail one man's journey from "innocent" white witchcraft into the darker rituals of Satanism. Ultimately he found himself driving the streets late at night as a vampire, looking for a victim to slack his thirst for blood. Not until he encountered the greater power of Christ did he realize he was looking for fulfillment in the wrong direction.

The tract, Crazy Wolf, is Jack Chick's newest addition to this arsenal against evil. Young people caught up in the occult will be drawn into the story of Crazy Wolf. Then it delivers a no-nonsense message that serving God is the only protection against Satan's deception. The story is set in the Native Indian culture. Local witches throw everything they have at "Old Mary," a devout Christian, only to find a strange power protecting her. Finally they engage the services of Crazy Wolf, their most powerful "skin walker." When he fails, the skin walker (and the reader) finds out the Source of the true Power and the eternal destiny of those who do and do not surrender to the God of that power. NEW IN SPANISH

The Spanish version of this book uses the Reina Valera Gomez Bible, which is the Spanish Bible that is most comparable to the English King James.

#1272 $3.99

Our Christian faith in the King James Bible is constantly being undermined. On Christian TV and radio, other versions are praised and promoted, and "experts" declare that certain verses are better translated in non-KJV versions.

Here's help.

This 44-page workbook contains five powerful lessons. Each one drives home the truth that the King James Bible is the perfect Word of God.

As readers look up verses and fill in the blanks, their eyes will be opened and their faith in God's Word will grow.

Help build a solid foundation in young Christians by showing them the truth about the King James Bible.

How to Speed-Test a New Bible Version

By David W. Daniels

A friend tells you about a new Bible version you have never seen before. You know God doesn't want any words taken away, so you are wary.

But you don't keep a bunch of "test verses" tucked away in your mind. Is this new Bible missing anything? If you have a copy of Look What's Missing, you can easily check it for your friend.

I'll show you how with a translation so new it's not even finished yet. It's only got Matthew and Mark. Are you ready?

Turn to the "short list" of missing verses starting at page 137 of Look What's Missing. You can use this list to test any version. But we are going to test a new version called the Conservapedia Bible Project (CBP), that can be found at www.conservapedia.com.

What is Missing from the CBP Bible?

Right away, you see that Matthew 17:21 is in brackets []. So is Matthew 18:11. The footnote says, "The provenance of this verse is disputed."

That's a fancy way of saying the author doesn't believe it belongs, but put it there anyway so you can feel happy about using his book. So it's there, but it's not really "scripture" to the author. Get it?

You find as you continue checking verses in Matthew and Mark that the other scriptures are in the text, even if they are reworded a lot.

But then we come to the last section, Mark 16:9-20. Is it in brackets? No. Is it in italics? No. Is it separated by a bar or indented with a note? No. Then is it in the footnotes? Not even that. It's just missing.

After 16:8 we find a small raised "a" that leads us to a footnote, saying, "Passages after this point are not found in the oldest manuscripts." Now wait a minute! That's a bold-faced lie. Out of 620 Greek manuscripts that contain Mark's Gospel, only the horribly corrupt, error-filled Sinaiticus and Vaticanus are missing these important verses.

That's less than 1/3 of 1% of all Greek manuscripts and they are not the oldest manuscripts.¹ So the translator completely removed those 12 verses —based on a lie.

Are the missing words important?

We have only found three selections, totaling 14 verses, missing from these two books of the CBP. But you can see the pattern. There will most likely be a lot more missing words, phrases and verses as the project continues.

You have only checked the CBP against the short list. Look What's Missing contains over 250 verses you can use to check any Bible version. I have only shown you a few of the verses in Matthew and Mark.

But are those missing words really important? Do you think it's important when 12 verses remove everything that happened to Jesus after His burial? Do you think it's important if one missing word makes Jesus look like a liar? Do you think it's important when one missing word ("God") removes the doctrine of the Incarnation (God becoming a man) in a verse? Do you think it's important if the only verse countering infant baptism is removed?

Look What's Missing will show you where some or all of the modern Bible versions remove words, phrases and verses that deal with these questions.

Don't let your friend settle for a Bible that's missing something. If that's what he has, he needs a new one.

Homosexuals Believe Time is on Their Side

Just like the sodomites at Lot's door, California homosexuals are refusing to take no for an answer. Despite being twice voted down, they are raising hundreds of thousands of dollars to try again to make "gay marriage" legal in California.

Last November, voters approved Proposition 8 placing an amendment in the state constitution making marriage between a man and a woman the only legal union in the state.

A previous ballot measure in 2000 was invalidated by the activist California Supreme Court allowing several thousand same-sex marriages before the vote last year amended the state constitution.

A challenge to the latest vote was turned down by the same court but it let stand all the unions that had taken place before the amendment went into effect.

New Generation Favors Same-Sex Marriage

However, a dispute is emerging among the homosexual activists whether to try to get a reversal on the 2010 ballot or wait for 2012. In the 2000 balloting, over 60 percent of the voters turned down homosexual marriage but the margin for Proposition 8 was only slightly over 50 percent.

One side wants to capitalize on this momentum but the other side argues that time is on their side, that as younger voters come aboard, they will be more favorable to their cause.

This reasoning is valid, since the propaganda campaign that the sodomite activists have waged has been effective. Polls indicate that over 70 percent of high school and college students favor legalizing same-sex marriage.

With homosexual clubs on hundreds of campuses and Hollywood bought and paid for by the sodomites, the next generation doesn't have a chance to understand the extent of God's wrath on this sin.

Besides that, we have systematically removed the influence of the Bible from our education system, so how can they even know God's point of view?

So, how will they learn? It is up to the Bible believers to sound the alarm. Sadly, many pastors have given up on preaching against sin. Their gospel is a feel-good message designed to make everyone happy and comfortable.

Gospel Tracts Precede Revival

In history, it was the common people who blew the whistle on a culture descending into godlessness. Their main instrument? Gospel tracts.

Most of the revivals and "great awakenings" in the last 500 years have been preceded by a saturation of the populace with powerful gospel literature.

Invention of the printing press not only gave the Bible to the common man but provided a cheap way to get current information to the people. For 40 years, Chick Publications has published a balanced gospel, that God

Government Solution to Sin: Tax It Away

The Founding fathers of the United States knew how to deal with sin: that only the Spirit of God could change the heart and prevent sin. Today, in many ways the government has replaced the church and is now embarking on a faulty solution to the sin problem in our culture.

Recognizing that much of our medical costs stem from sinful behavior, legislators are proposing more “lifestyle taxes” on that behavior which causes so much of our medical costs. Already, many states have placed a heavy tax on cigarettes and alcohol, expecting a dual benefit: increased revenue and reducing costly addiction.

Now the Senate Finance Committee is proposing to tax soft drinks, junk food, fruit juices and even chocolate milk in the hopes of raising money to pay for health care for all and at the same time, discouraging costly obesity that they believe is caused by these “unhealthy” foods.

What a price we are now paying for the last 50 years of feel-good religion. When preachers called sins by name and warned sinners about hell, hearts were changed by prophecy that “global management” by the “beast” will ultimately occur.

Just days after Rompuy’s installation, the EU foreign ministers issued a statement pushing for Jerusalem to be divided with half of it the capital of Israel and the other half the capital of a “Palestinian state.”

Europe has long insisted that Israel give up the part of Jerusalem captured in the 1967 war. Since this would mean Israel giving up hope of ever rebuilding the temple, they have refused to even consider that possibility.

Another sign of the end times is described by Zechariah in chapter 12. He sees a day when Jerusalem will be a burdensome stone and a cup of trembling when “...all the people of the earth be gathered against it.” No one can doubt that we are living in that day.

Persecution of Bible believers is another prophetic theme in Scripture. Estimates run as high as 50,000 are martyred each year. Nearly one fourth of the world lives in Islamic countries where Christians are forbidden. Another third lives in India and China where Christians are regularly attacked by Buddhists, Hindus or driven underground by the government.

Christians in the other third in the Western World generally do not have to fear for their lives, but secular materialism has succeeded in crowding them to the margins of the culture under the banner of evolution. The Bible predicts rising lawlessness in the last days. God’s law has been trampled by the legalization of sins such as abortion, sodomy and fornication.

Another sign of the end is that the love of many will wax cold. Unfortunately, many who claim to be “Christians” no longer demonstrate a love for the gospel and the sinner. Bible believers must keep their focus on the great commission. We must test everyone we can see if they are ready to hear the gospel.

If we don’t have time to talk to them personally, it takes only a couple of seconds to place the gospel into their hands with a tract that contains a compelling story and a clear challenge to surrender to Jesus.

Then their choice will determine their eternal destiny, and we can be assured that we have clearly presented them with that choice and their blood will not be on our hands. (See Eze. 3:18.)

Remember: Chick tracts get read!

'Can You Get Us Some More?'

Every time a missionary is supplied with Chick tracts, the result is the same: they can't get enough. Missionary Donnie Whitlock is no exception. He works throughout Asia but his latest report is from the Philippines.

"The Lord knows the need is great and the door of opportunity is now opened," writes Whitlock. "I have had the privilege to preach throughout the world (38 nations/many islands), but never have I been in a place as open to the Gospel as the Philippines."

As is so often the case, places in America that are closed to sharing the gospel are open in other countries. Whitlock reports: "The Lord allowed me to preach in a public high school to 1,800 students, plus 77 teachers and many other workers. The principal of this school is a Christian, so she asked if I would come and preach with no strings attached. There were over 400 professions of faith.

"I am having some local pastors follow-up and make sure of their decision for Christ. The team with me was able to give each student a copy of This Was Your Life in the Filipino language. They were so excited. Only eternity will give us the total response of what took place."

Pastor Requests More Chick Tracts

Whitlock has had hundreds of requests for more tracts. One local pastor went to a large mall and soon ran out of tracts. He came back and reported: "I watched the people sitting everywhere reading that tract. Can you get us some more?"

"This has been the result all over the areas I have gone," says Whitlock, who ministers widely to other parts of Asia. Most of the tracts that Whitlock uses are furnished by Christians in America who sacrifice so they can focus their resources and buy tracts at a deep discount in large quantities.

One such Christian has supplied Whitlock with tens of thousands of tracts in several languages.

One of Whitlock's ministries is to the local pastors. He has developed training guides and other materials in several languages specifically for local pastors. Next year he is planning a camp meeting just for pastors and their families in the Philippines.

He writes: "We would love to have thousands of tracts to send back with these pastors into their areas of service at the end of the camp. It is amazing how many tracts these people can distribute.

"They love Chick tracts because the people read them and don't throw them away, but pass them on to other people. Only the Lord knows how many may read the same tract. Tracts have always been a part of our ministry."

This is only one example of the effectiveness of Chick tracts in the language of the people.

Chick Tracts in 100 Languages

Chick Publications receives many requests from missionaries for tracts in the language of their mission field. As a result, we have tracts in over a hundred languages.

As a publisher, we are not organized to provide tax-deductible receipts. If you are able to help extend the reach of a missionary, we suggest that you find out the missionaries that your church supports.

Suggest that they go to the www.chick.com web site and review the titles that we have in the language of their mission field. If they find a title that they can use, we can drop ship your order to your missionary.

Please call 909-987-0771 for more details. For more information about Whitlock's ministry, visit his website at www.massmediaoutreachministries.org.

reader of any culture is drawn into the story and confronted with the choice: the endless “joy of the Lord” or eternity in hell with Satan and all his vicious and slimy “angels.” (See Matt. 25:41.)

Revelation chapters 9 and 18 speak of sorceries deceiving men in the last days. Today, that prophecy is being fulfilled before our eyes. We are there as predicted. Finding a story that will grab the young reader is difficult. We believe that Crazy Wolf will do just that. the Spirit of God. The cost of sin on society was reduced. Drunkards were converted, smokers and homosexuals realized they needed forgiveness and were delivered. Gluttony was recognized and dealt with.

A much smaller government was needed to only deal with the few who insisted on living in rebellion.

Studies have shown that the more that people are encouraged to trust the government for their care, the lower the church attendance. And the more the church neglects to speak out against sin, the more the government steps in to try to solve the problems caused by that sin.

Proverbs 14:34 says, “Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people.” Not only have we glorified sin in our media, we have begun to legalize it in abortion and homosexuality. Now we are reaping our reproach.

If it is possible to correct the situation, repentance and revival is the only answer. Taxing a sinful heart will not make it righteous. That will only harden the rebellion. That heart must be told the hellish consequences of sin and challenged to repent and submit to God’s grace through Christ.

Paul asked, “How shall they hear without a preacher?” Too many “preachers” have neglected the rest of the gospel: hell is hot for those who refuse to repent. Chick tracts are like little “preachers” who pull no punches. Many have written to Chick Publications that they read a tract years ago but could not forget the picture of the angel dropping the sinner into the flames of hell. Years later, they surrendered to Christ.

Many of the revivals in history were started with wide distribution of hard-hitting gospel tracts. The Holy Spirit used them to melt the hearts of enough sinners that God’s judgment was averted.

Today, we still have a chance to turn back the “reproach” of our nation. But men must see sin for what it is: a sure ticket to hell where the party is cancelled because of fire and no exit.

Soul winners, we had better work while it is day. Unless we do, the night will come sooner than we think. Seed your community with hard-hitting Chick tracts while there is time.

CHICK MAIL BAG

When our 5 kids were young adults but still living at home, they started a ministry they named C.H.O.W., Christian Homeless Outreach Workforce.

In winter here in the Phoenix area, they would go to stores and friends asking for food and supply donations and I bought what they couldn't get. Then they would prepare and drive our minivan out to parks where the homeless gathered and slide open the side door, put up a sign, and start handing out cups of hot sweet tea, hot hard boiled eggs, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, fresh fruit, secondhand coats and blankets, and assorted Chick tracts. People always were grateful and polite and lined up to receive what was handed out, and the Chick tracts were always a huge hit, getting passed around and read right on the spot and eagerly traded for unread ones. The Chick tracts are the reason C.H.O.W. was a success.

As a side note, you might suggest that folks do what I do: hand the kid in the drive-thru window a Chick tract as he or she hands you your burger and fries. K.G., AZ

Episcopalians Refuse Homosexual Lies, Fall Into Pope's Trap

Confusion continues to reign in the 70 million member Anglican "church" with the election of the second homosexual to a bishop level leadership. In a balloting during the annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles, Lesbian Mary D. Glasspool was selected as a candidate for assistant bishop in the diocese.

The first open homosexual, V. Gene Robinson, was elected bishop in 2003. Since then, the denomination has been torn by members pointing out that the Bible calls homosexuality an abomination. Some parishes have pulled out to join foreign dioceses or create their own.

However, the ones who are attempting to get back to a biblical standard are being enticed to join another highly unbiblical organization. Like a wolf watching from the bushes for a weakened animal, the pope is offering to give sanctuary to the Anglican leaders and congregations.

Using the bait that they have a common opposition to homosexual clergy, he is offering to waive the celibacy requirement and allow them to become Roman Catholic priests.

Some have already accepted the pope's offer. How sad that they are trying to observe the biblical standard on sodomy and overlooking what the Bible has to say about the pope's prostitute "church."

Unfortunately, many who consider themselves to be Bible-believing evangelicals are just as confused about popery as the misguided Anglicans. They have bought the lie that Roman Catholicism is just another "denomination with a different style of worship."

They have forgotten that the leaders of the Reformation correctly identified the pope as a false Christ and head of the biggest unbiblical cult in the world.

They are mostly uninformed about Rome's unbiblical worship of Mary, salvation by ritual and works, wafer god, infant baptism, confession to a priest who has the power to forgive sin, etc.

One of the worst abominations of Catholicism is the pope's claim that he is Christ's official representative on earth. He is called the "vicar" of Christ —one who acts for Christ. We get the word, "vice" (as in vice president) from the same root word.

Jesus warned repeatedly that many would come in His name, claiming to be Christ. (See Matt. 24:23-27.) People would claim that Christ was in the desert or hidden in some secret place. We are not to believe them because when He comes back everyone will see Him.

In order to warn about the pope's lies, Chick Publications has revised and updated the discontinued tract, Is There Another Christ? It shows the subtle deception of the pope's priesthood system. The Roman Catholic "Christ" is actually a wafer god created by a priest who is defined in Catholic theology as an "Alter Christus," Another Christ!

The tract describes how this wafer "Christ" is worshipped in the Mass, and eaten as a re-creation of Jesus' sacrifice on the cross. It also quotes popes who have declared that: "To be subject to the Roman pontiff is ...altogether necessary for salvation."

The Episcopalians, the U.S. branch of the worldwide Anglican Church, are not the only ones deceived by this false Christ. Many sincere believers have failed to carefully examine the description of the prostitute church in Revelation 17 and 18. They both need to be given a copy of this tract so they will know the truth.

Besides deceived believers, unbelievers need to be told the truth about this false "church" so they will not be ensnared by the pope's lies. Seeding this tract into a community will serve both purposes, plus it includes an invitation to trust Christ alone for eternal life.

is love but rejection of His love brings horrific judgment. Many have written to us that the picture of the angel dropping the person over the cliff into the burning pit stayed with them for years before they finally submitted to Christ's love. We have taken a lot of heat for our stand on sodomy, but someone must speak out. If you find tracts like Sin City and Doom Town hard to hand out, then place them somewhere where they will be found.

But if we don't seed these into our communities, how will the next generation learn the truth and avoid God's wrath? We published the book, Hot Topics, to elaborate on the message of the tracts.

America has legalized sin and God's hand of judgment is raised against us. Even most Christians are oblivious to this because they have accepted polluted Bibles* that changed God's view on sodomy.

We can turn the tide by seeding gospel tracts into our communities. But we have to use the ones that speak the truth about God's judgment as well as His love. If you are uncomfortable handing these "hot potato" tracts to someone, at least plant them where they will be found.

the society with gospel tracts. Pamphlets with a clear call to repentance were sown widely by concerned believers.

Hell has been a taboo subject in the church in recent years. Modern Bible translators have avoided the word, preferring not to translate the Hebrew "sheol" and Greek "gehenna" and "hades." Since these are unfamiliar words instead of the familiar "hell," it blunts the force of the word that Jesus clearly emphasized in His teaching.

Chick Publications has tried to be consistent in reminding readers that hell is a real place. Many people have written to us that they could not shake the image of the angel dropping the sinner over the cliff into the lake of fire. The result was, sometimes years later, surrender to Christ.

Powerful forces in America today are determined to destroy the righteousness that fueled our prosperity. They believe we can continue to promote sin without any consequences. In the Old Testament, God's dealings with Israel teaches us that it won't work. The only hope is a return to righteousness one person at a time.

Gospel tracts are a proven way to challenge a person to face the truth and repent. But unless they are widely distributed, they cannot do the job. Soul winners, we need to get busier.

A MESSAGE FROM JACK CHICK...

Dear ones in Christ,

Well, the boys in Europe, our elite in America, and the pope in the Vatican are going full speed to lock us into a one-world government. The Lord said that: "When these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads: for your redemption draweth nigh. (See Luke 21:25-28.)

We knew it was coming, but now we see the fulfillment right before our eyes. And right behind it will come two major wars with incredible casualties. We'll be gone before the tribulation comes, but what about those in darkness? Confusion and lies, states going bankrupt, growing debt too big to ever repay will cause heart failure from fear. It seems like demonic powers have killed all reason. Some say that the lunatics are running the asylum.

The only sanity is the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. One tract passer told me that, three years ago, one community had turned up their noses at our tracts, But a recent visit to the same people found them afraid and they accepted them. Why? Because every tenth house in the neighborhood was boarded up and the people gone.

Beloved, when times are bad and looking hopeless, people seek God's help. We've got to make sure they know how to get His help. Let's plant tracts everywhere we can. Give them to neighbors and friends and everyone else who will take them. If we don't, we will regret it when the Lord comes for us. This is the least we can do.

Your Brother in Christ,

The “Home Alone” chapter in Hot Topics covers gay recruitment. It’s happening everyday, yet few Christians will face it.

Whoa! — Not true, Charlie!

Brad was not born that way.

At the age of 11, he was sent to juvenile hall for stealing. There he was raped by two older boys.

That act brought Brad into the homosexual world.

Your children are being indoctrinated into the GLBT* movement.

THEY ARE AFTER YOUR CHILDREN!
