Many churches, particularly in the southern part of the United States, have long had a burden for the ready-made mission field that comes across our southern border. But now the flood is almost overwhelming in that area and the entire country has been opened to that soulwinning opportunity.

Just in the last four years an estimated 9.6 million people have streamed across our southern border illegally. They are diverse both in religion and in language. Those from Latin America speak mostly Spanish and generally have a Roman

Canada Rapidly Becoming Dangerous For Christians

Our friendly neighbor to the north is becoming a lab case for government-approved destruction of life and promotion of perversion. Evidence shows up in a number of ways: abortion, euthanasia, and legislation promoting homosexuality.

Canada's abortion rate per 1000 women of childbearing age is only about 10 per year compared to over 50 in Russia. While Canada is not at the top of the list for the most abortions per year, it is on the cutting edge of the next assault on life, assisted death. Canada's 27.2 assisted deaths per 100,000 population is only behind the Netherlands at 43.7.

Four percent of all deaths in Canada last year were due to Medical Assistance In Dying (MAID). What began as an

Would You Let Dishonest Scholars Determine Your Faith?

One of the best kept secrets today is that unbelievers with ulterior motives were involved in the “translation” of the modern Bibles. But they have been trusted to change the Bible just because they were called “scholars.”

Being a “scholar” doesn’t guarantee that you are a good person with good intentions. History tells us that the 50+ scholars that translated the King James version were honest men.

Not so of the men who prepared the Westcott and Hort Greek that is the basis of the modern bibles. In their dishonesty they tossed out piles of documents that support the manuscripts used to translate the King James. Instead, they chose just a handful of questionable Greek manuscripts with different wordings.

And other dishonest men deceptively provided those counterfeit manuscripts to the “scholars,” Westcott and Hort, who used them to prepare their Greek New Testament. The result was a Greek manuscript riddled with doubtful passages.

Some verses were omitted, and others were changed. Some have footnotes that raise doubts about a passage, leaving the reader to decide for himself whether he believes that that scripture is really God’s words.

How did this come about? For over 200 years the King James Bible was honored by the Western World as God’s preserved words in English. Then some unbelievers began to suggest it was obsolete and needed “updating.”

Honest men pointed out the risk that the process might be sabotaged by bad men and that readers only needed to learn the classic English to understand the pure words in the King James. They were quickly shouted down.

At that time in history the dishonest Bible scholars were in love with science. They used a faulty science to justify scrapping the King James manuscripts and approve the counterfeits. Their lies were bought by the translators who used the Westcott and Hort Greek to produce the first modern New Testament.

Publishers appeared on the scene about that time using high speed printing equipment to flood the world with printed material. The new bibles fit right into that market. They copyrighted the new bibles and the Bible believers flocked to the bookstores.

To copyright something, it must be a “new work,” substantially different from another work. Yet we are told by the publishers that “all bibles are basically the same.” But a side-by-side comparison exposes that as an urban legend.

Bible publishing has become such a gold mine that most bibles are now published by secular publishers. Continually appealing to the public’s desire for “some new thing” guarantees a steady cash flow.

Anyone for a “Cotton Patch” Bible?

So, what to do? If you are a sincere Christian, you must choose a Bible that becomes your standard reference for truth. In view of the facts above, the choice is obvious.

However, if you are in a leadership position where a sudden shift would confuse the sheep, you must be a gentle shepherd. The first step is to begin your own study with the King James as your standard. You can begin then to use it as your references, when you speak, as

IS AMERICA ON A COLLISION COURSE WITH GOD?

Through a step-by-step analysis of historical events, author John P. McTernan proves that God still brings swift judgment on those who betray Israel. In every case where America has failed Israel, it has faced dramatic consequences within 24 hours. (Author gives many examples.)

Catholic background.

But we are also seeing individuals from China, India, and the Muslim countries as well as Haiti and Africa. Researchers tell us that the word has gone out around the globe that America's back door is wide open and they come with visions of opportunities for a better life.

Some come with honest intent to work and become productive citizens. Unfortunately, others come with intent to get that better life through crime. There have been claims that some countries are emptying their jails and dumping them on the path to our southern border.

Cities across the country are beginning to feel the strain on their welfare systems. Many compassionate Christians have stepped up to provide basic necessities for those that have come into their area.

But the needs of this 10 million people are highly complex. Many have spiritual worldviews that will work against them and those who are trying to help. Some have been abused by their religions and do not trust spiritual leaders.

Missionaries in the foreign fields have discovered that reaching multitudes in complex societies with the gospel can be daunting. But several generations of believers have discovered that printed literature is a powerful tool. Used properly it can be very effective in sorting out those who are approachable with the gospel message.

Gospel tracts are also highly versatile in speaking to the diverse spiritual needs—and in the person's native tongue. Over the years the missionaries have helped us develop an inventory of tracts in over 140 languages. In addition, they come in categories specifically related to Islam, Roman Catholicism, Hinduism, and other "isms."

All of the major languages are covered and many lesser-known languages from Africa and other countries.

God has also blessed Chick Publications with high-speed, high-volume printing equipment capable of producing millions of tracts a month. In these quantities the costs can be driven down so that a 24-page booklet is very near the price of leaflet tracts in smaller quantities.

attempt to mercifully relieve terminal people from unbearable pain has taken on a new dimension. It is now being expanded to include sufferers of chronic disease, physically disabled, and possibly the mentally ill and children.

Pro-lifers have long warned that when respect for preborn life was lost, the slippery slope would begin. If it is okay to kill a baby in the womb, it becomes much easier to find an excuse to dispose of other undesirables. In less than 100 years we have moved from right to kill in abortion, to right to die in MAID, to talk of obligation to die because of the high cost of medical care.

Part of the logic being used in Canada is based on their failed socialist medical plan. Medical providers have pointed out for a long time that between 20% and 50% of the cost of medical care for an individual happens in the last six months of life. In 2017, the Canadian Medical Association journal published a report saying: “Medical assistance in dying could reduce annual healthcare spending across Canada by between $34.7 million and $138.8 million.

But if Satan cannot destroy life, he will try to pervert it.

The homosexual steamroller has also scored a hit in Canada. In January of 2022 Canada’s Criminal Code was amended to strictly forbid “conversion therapy.”

It forbids any “practice, treatment or service designed to,” among other things, “change a person’s sexual orientation to heterosexual,” or “change a person’s gender expression so that it conforms to the sex assigned to the person at birth.” It also penalizes any attempt to “repress a person’s non-cisgender (trans-) gender identity.”

It goes on to explain that this does in no way forbid the attempt to help someone adjust to their delusion about their identity. In other words, counselling someone to continue to explore their same-sex attraction is encouraged. But it is illegal, even for Christians, to try to help someone who wants to get out of that confusion.

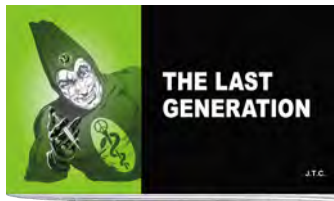

Parents are also trapped because the bill prohibits them from seeking helpful council for a confused child in another country. Violation of this is punishable by up to five years in prison.

The passage of this bill came after several other bills had been tabled or voted down in previous years by conservative lawmakers. This bill was passed by motions of unanimous consent in both chambers showing how quickly the country has moved into deeper perversity.

These are only a few of the ways that Canada has adopted this socialist mindset. Once a society gives up on energetically promoting God’s way of life, Satan is more than ready to bring in all kinds of delusions.

The lie of evolution eliminates God from the picture. Then, desperate for purpose in life, the people hand over social, economic, and political control to the government. Heaven on earth is promised but tyranny results. Anyone who dares to believe the Bible and teach it is driven underground.

Bible believing pastors need to study the Canadian model carefully. It is a lab case in a small country of what will happen here unless Christians wake up and widely spread the word that the Bible has a better way.

Not All Americans Speak English

At least, not all the time.

For many, English is a second language. When they come to our shores, we are responsible to give them the Gospel.

But for most people, their birth language is their “language of the heart.” That is the language in which they best understand spiritual concepts.

Many soul-winners keep tracts in their car or purse in several languages, ready to delight those in their city who have a different ethnic background.

Latin American Missionary Effort Exploding

For several decades we have watched as millions left the counterfeit Roman Catholic church in Latin America to join the growing Bible-believing churches. Now they are maturing and beginning to take the Great Commission seriously.

A revival spirit has birthed thousands of churches that are free to take the Bible for what it says. This mirrors early America when we experienced a similar phase of churches extending their reach until most small towns had several.

Latin America has a wide diversity of backgrounds. Originally, the native peoples were supplanted by the European invaders. These also brought a diversity from Spanish to Portuguese, Dutch and British.

Now there are strong central churches that are obeying the Great Commission and planting other churches within their countries. At the same time, they are looking at missionary opportunities close by, with the many native tribes who are still active. And the millions more still in bondage to the dead rituals of Roman Catholicism are easily persuaded to come into a new freedom in Christ. Missionary societies are sponsoring conventions to gather many congregations together from outside their local area. These include agencies through which funds are funneled to establish missionaries in remote parts of the Western Hemisphere and beyond.

Latin America is becoming more and more sensitive to the world's need for missions. One missionary described the disposition of Latin Christians as more sensitive to the plight of impoverished mission fields.

Today, they have over 10,000 evangelical missionaries serving in more than 100 countries. Just since 2000, there has been a 300% growth in this effort. Four hundred mission agencies account for 9000 missionaries with an estimated 3000 who have gone out without agency support.

This is exactly what happened in early

Some churches are already acting on the vision to reach this river of humanity with the gospel. They are taking advantage of the volume-pricing that Chick Publications can offer and recruiting teams to go into the shelters to reach these millions of precious people.

Over the years many people have written to Chick Publications that they received a gospel tract and disregarded its message at the time. But they chose not to throw it away. Years later they rediscovered it and were ready to act upon its message.

Chick Publications wants Bible believers to know that we are standing by to provide any quantity desired for those who have a vision to put their resources and soul winners behind this unique opportunity.

If you have found an effective way to get the gospel into the hands of these precious people that God has brought to our doorstep, please share it with us and we will help equip others with the information. You may send it by e-mail to postmaster@chick.com.

America, but it has been slowing down for some time now.

While the United States still sends out more missionaries, many US churches have cooled somewhat in their zeal to reach unreached peoples. The fledgling Latin churches are bringing a fresh momentum to the gospel that is being felt worldwide.

As we see the spiritual darkness gathering, we often pray the scripture, “come quickly... Lord Jesus.” Yet He wants us to remember that there are still millions who will respond to the gospel if we bother to take it to them.

Unfortunately, the commonly used Spanish Bible, the RV 1960, has been polluted with changes that don't match the traditional Scriptures. Pastor Humberto Gomez, who was able to apply modern research to the Bible issue, spent years correcting this.

He first chose the Reina Valera 1901 version because it was closer to the Textus Receptus and the King James. By using the Internet, he enlisted renowned Spanish biblical scholars to comb through the 1901 for places that diverge from the Textus Receptus originals.

By 2010 he was able to publish the Reina Valera Gomez (RVG) version. It is becoming increasingly popular in Spanish speaking congregations. To support the boom in Latin America, Chick Publications carries several styles and bindings. If you have Spanish speaking friends, they may not be aware that there is a better Bible available.

Chick tracts have played a small part in this revival and worldwide missionary effort. Each new tract we publish is immediately translated into Spanish and released at the same time. Over the years, millions have been salted into the Latin world. And when the missionaries go out to other nations, we can generally supply tracts for whatever language they need.

Missionaries tell us Chick Tracts often significantly increase the possibility of starting a church. These Missions Projects have been made possible by our many customers who donate their hard-earned money into the Missions Fund. The tracts become a valuable tool extending the reach of home churches as well as missionaries around the world.

frequently as your people are willing to follow you.

At the same time you can begin to educate key influencers in your congregation with the facts of this betrayal by the scholars. You must be prepared to ably articulate this shocking history to those above you and below you.

David W. Daniels has researched Satan's attack on God's words. His many books on the subject will give you the frame of reference necessary to make this vital shift. One of his books describes how over 200 important verses or phrases are missing in the modern bibles.

In John 14:15, Jesus says “If ye love me, keep my commandments.” How can we do that unless we know exactly what they are? No doubt, most will “go with the flow.” But no Bible that contains partial truth can make us truly free. And only the complete truth will set sinners free.

Science Finds More ‘Evidence’ of Adam and Eve

Scientists are desperate to disprove the Bible, but they keep tripping over their own evidence. That is primarily because what they consider “evidence” is often only supported by “assumptions” (maybe-so’s) and “inferences” (guesses).

One “maybe-so” (assumption) is their big buzzword, “uniformitarianism.” Here they are “assuming” that things like the geological column of soil layers were deposited over a uniform sequence of time.

Similar layers formed today must take a long time. So they infer (guess) that each layer represents a long segment of that time. This is one way they conclude that the history of mankind is measured in millions of years.

But Christian geologists point out that, given catastrophic events like Noah’s flood, layers of that geologic column could have been deposited in just a few months, or even hours.

Evolutionary anthropologists (people who study the history of people) operate on the same guesswork. They “assume” that man evolved in a uniform pattern from primal soup to thinking man. Then they “infer” that two fossils, with and without opposable thumbs, existed millions of years apart. But they could have been two different species living at the same time.

Because they refuse to accept the Biblical account, they keep stumbling over facts that contradict their assumptions and inferences. These facts do not prove the existence of Adam and Eve, or even Noah. But several different fields of scientific study have turned up intriguing information.

For example, evolutionary biologists have discovered that earth’s population may at one point have been reduced to about 1280 people. Then they assume that this small number of people existed for many generations. Of course their evolutionary worldview tries to put that bottleneck much farther back in time than the Bible.

The biblical worldview tells us that it was down to only eight people at Noah’s time, but they quickly repopulated. In evolution’s long view, that dip would not even have been noticed.

Other scientists involved in DNA research have discovered that they can trace generations back toward what they call the “primordial pair.” And it seems to point to an origin somewhere in the Near East.

Two research associates at the University of Basel, Switzerland, surveyed the DNA of 5 million animals and humans. Researcher David Thaler said he fought “as hard as I could” against the conclusion that “we sprang from a single pair of adults after a catastrophic event almost wiped out the human race.” Sounds like Noah’s family again which would have created a genetic restart.

Another intriguing contribution has been made by archaeology combined with the study of languages. Many older civilizations have been identified in the last 100 years along with much of their language patterns.

A researcher in Hawaii, Dr. Vamos-Toth Bator, set out to see if there were significant similarities between the names of remotely separated places like cities and mountains and lakes. He found many names of places, widely separated around the world, that were the same. This suggests that they were named by people who came from the same general area, and brought those names with them, just like the Bible describes in the Genesis 10 Table of Nations.

The Story of Jesus

It actually starts in Genesis!

Full color - 64 pages - Item #250

Young people, as well as adults, enjoy seeing the story of Jesus as the thread woven from Genesis to Revelation. See Him as Creator, Deliverer, Judge and coming King. Readers come away with a simple understanding of the Bible, and a growing faith!

Give it to your kids, grandchildren, teens, Sunday School classes.

Science From p. 8

With research stretching over a decade, Bator claims to have found 1,000,000 names of cities and rivers and mountains that point back to a common source even though they are spread around the entire globe. Many actually use identical names for rivers or mountains or cities.

All of the propaganda about science has led to an extreme overconfidence in the reliability of what they call evidence. Honest scientists continue to discover new facts that can change the picture dramatically.

Dishonest scientists impose their own assumptions and inferences (maybe so's and guesses) to promote a usually godless agenda.

Soul winners, we need to stand tall on the truth of our Bible against the pervasive lies in our culture. Chick publications has several books and one tract that you can use to break evolution's grip.

Philippines

At the time of this writing we are still about $20,000 short of funding for the massive 2.6 million tract container shipment to the Philippines. Nearly 200 ministries, all over this 7,000-island nation, are waiting anxiously for their supply! We definitely need help to finish this project.

The many pictures which come to us from there show that Filipinos virtually stop what they are doing and read their tract on the spot! Millions are getting a chance to know Jesus!

The opportunity to get tracts into the schools is AMAZING!

Every one of these Filipino kids stopped to immediately read their Chick tracts.

They really make you think!

Other current needs

South Africa

Missionary Mike Fluech is waiting for 20,000 tracts in English and Chichewa. Part he will use in his own outreach in Potchefstroom, and part will be divided between two pastors he has mentored to help grow their church plants. One of them has already started five churches!

Brother Mike writes: “The Chick tracts you helped us with a few months ago have been a big blessing. Of all the tracts we hand out, we have the best response from people receiving Chick tracts. We are starting to run a little low, so if there will be a convenient time to make a plan for getting more, we would greatly appreciate that.”

Bahamas

Missionary Joshuah Fussner is continuing to personally deliver a Chick gospel tract to every home in Freeport, Bahamas. He is planting a new church and needed another batch of 10,000 tracts.

Italy

Following the home-going of veteran missionary Jamie Homan, the work is continuing in the hands of his wife, Csilla, and their son, Joshua Homan, now a missionary in his own right. They need 20,000 Italian “This Was Your Life” for this Catholic oppressed nation, to point them to Jesus.

Recent shipments

United Kingdom (127,000 tracts)

127,000 more tracts have been sent for the various evangelists of Cross Mission.

Philippines

Don't bother me, I'm reading ... about Jesus!

Chick tracts often lead to a personal witness.

In the photo below, three helpers prepare to move the tracts indoors after delivery one hour north of London.

One of their evangelists, Kristina Kim, shares how people react to the tracts here:

She writes: "I met a 28-year-old Englishman, Jack, in Kingston shopping centre last Saturday.

"He was sitting on a low, stone church fence waiting for the bus. With Chick tracts, when I shared the gospel of Jesus, he really looked serious. And eventually he accepted Jesus as his Saviour and Lord."

Japan (10,000 tracts)

We continue to send Japanese Chick tracts to Missionary Eli Guiltner as fast as he can use them. In the last year he put out 56,000 in new areas of Tokyo. He wrote: "Tokyo is such a massive city that I can continue to go to new places every week to put out 1,000 gospel tracts and never cover the whole city in my lifetime."

Honduras (200,000 tracts)

One Chick donor felt a burden to help bring the Gospel to this country, and paid the entire cost for a huge shipment of 200,000 Spanish Chick tracts to go here. At the time of this writing, the ship will soon arrive in Tegucigalpa where it will clear customs and move to the interior of the country. Many of these tracts will be used not far from the Nicaragua border where thousands of Venezuelan refugees come through!

Missionary Scott Sumner describes their ministry:

"We have a military and police chaplaincy ministry to the Honduran Army, Navy and Air Force as well as the National Police. God has given us favor with the government and allowed us to preach the Gospel in their bases and installations all over the country for the last 32 years. We preach on a weekly basis at their equivalent of the Pentagon plus their Military and Police Academies. We are blessed to minister to them by the thousands every year.

“Also, where we are located in Honduras on the Pan American highway, there are thousands of immigrants that come through our town on their way to the U.S. on a regular basis. Some are Chinese, Haitian and Arabs but the majority are from Venezuela.”

India (80,000 tracts)

Lordson Roch (you’ve read of him before) is using many of these tracts in both English and Hindi for new church plants in Bengal and Delhi. He recently wrote: “Thank you for your faithfulness in supporting us generously for the last 17 years in reaching the lost in India.

Millions have received the gospel through us by means of Chick tracts. Eternity will surprise us. Those saved in Goa through Chick tracts are added to our church by the Lord.”

Thailand/Burma (10,000 tracts)

A lifetime of missions in China and southern Asia have given Missionary Pat Caspary a lot of connections in this area. We are unable to ship Chick tracts into Myanmar (Burma) but the violence there has sent multitudes of refugees across the border into Thailand. Chick tracts in Burmese have arrived there and are helping to reach these desperate people.

Italy (80,000 tracts)

The 80,000 Chick tracts that Missionary Joshua Leib needed have finally arrived!

The world is in a mess, but these dedicated missionaries don't look at that. They just keep focused on doing what Jesus commanded us all to do . . . to go!

Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

Right now, citizens are feeling overrun by migrants. The non-PC term is “illegal aliens.” People see them taking away precious resources that should go to our own citizens who need them: veteran’s families who gave their all for their country, the many disabled who cannot take care of themselves, and the poor, who in times of prosperity are a much smaller number than they are now.

All of that is true. However, there is one kind of handout that we must give them: the gospel!

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations,
... to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you” (Matthew 28:19-20).

Jack Chick told me of a military leader who was told, “We’re surrounded!” He responded: “Good! Don’t let them get away!”

That is the attitude of a soulwinner. God has surrounded us with a mission field. We can’t let them get away without the gospel! Chick tracts come in around 140 languages. People set up tract racks, or even fill their autos with an assortment of tracts in various languages.

The best way for us to get used by God is to make ourselves usable. Let’s stock up on gospel tracts and see what opportunities God surrounds us with, to reach the lost!

In Christ Jesus, and for His service,
