Muslim Author Finds the True God He Knew Had To Be There Somewhere

There are an estimated 6 million Muslims in the U.S. They are here for a variety of reasons but they have one thing in common. They are all deceived by their religion.

Mohammad Al Ghazoli, in his newly released book, Christ, Muhammad and I, writes: "I am someone at whose door a brother knocked and said, 'have you read the Qur'an and Muhammad's sayings (Al Hadith) in depth? After reading, I was stricken with a severe intellectual headache...' For ten years he wandered, giving up on the religion of his family. But he still felt that there had to be a God somewhere.

"While I was lost as far as the Islamic religion is concerned," he says, "a born-again Christian put a Bible in my hands, and said 'Read.'" He

Even when a Muslim performs ritual prayers 5 times a day he can never be sure his god is pleased with him.

Evolution's Big Lie Looking More Absurd

When Neil Armstrong guided the lunar lander down toward the surface of the moon in 1970 he had many concerns. One of those was Cosmologist Isaac Asimov's prediction in 1958: "I get a picture, of the first spaceship picking out a nice level place for landing purposes, coming slowly downward tail-first and sinking majestically out of sight."

Asimov had calculated that, if the moon had been around a few billion years, it would be covered with a layer of cosmic dust several miles thick. That, of course, is why NASA first sent an unmanned lander that found, to Asimov's surprise, only two or three inches of dust. And we are all familiar with pictures of Armstrong's footprints in the shallow lunar dirt.

Evolutionists depend heavily on huge eons of time to allow for all the happy accidents necessary for life to evolve from the primordial soup. Yet they keep bumping into evidence that the earth is less than 10,000 years old.

Mormon President Pushes Book of Mormon Fiction

Gordon B. Hinckley, 96-year-old president of the Mormons, told the biannual meeting of the Latter Day Saints that the Book of Mormon contains a valid account of Christ's dealings with the American Indians. This "valid account" claims that a group of Jews called the Jaredites came to America from the Middle East at the time of the tower of Babel. None of them survived being eventually destroyed by wars.

Another group from the Hebrew tribes of Manasseh and Ephraim migrated to America around 589 BC. They supposedly split into two groups, the Nephites and the Lamanites. The first were also destroyed by war but the Lamanites became ancestors of the Native Americans, according to the Book of Mormon account.

Author Thomas Heinze points out in his book, Answers To My Mormon Friends, that there is no clear historical or archeological evidence supporting this tale. By contrast, "Many cities mentioned in the Bible have indeed been uncovered by archeologists just where the Bible said." Mormons have long sought to verify scientifically the Book of Mormon story. Overwhelming evidence has accumulated indicating that the story is pure fiction.

At one point they claimed that the Smithsonian Institution used the Book of Mormon as a guide to almost all of

Catholics Told: 'You Can't Understand The Bible'

When you witness to a Roman Catholic, he will probably tell you he is a Christian and that his "church" is based on the Bible. However, if you encourage him to read the Bible, he may decline. One young Catholic lady told a soul winner: "If I read the Bible, I may interpret it wrong. If I have a problem, I go to my priest and follow his council and I am okay."

In other words, the Catholic church is based on the Bible only as interpreted by the Priest. There are many parallels between the Pharisees in Jesus' day and modern Roman Catholicism.

Jesus told the Pharisees that they had made the word of God of no effect by their tradition. (Mark 7) The Jewish leaders of Christ's day had set themselves up as the final interpreters of the Scriptures and developed an elaborate set of traditions. Jesus had some very harsh words for these leaders.

Roman Catholicism boasts that it also has a tradition called the "Magisterium." It claims that this is the "Teaching Office" of the pope and the bishops. Catholic laymen are told they cannot personally understand the Bible well enough to correctly interpret it. They must go to Mother Church to find out what the Bible really says.

Over the centuries, Papal decrees, ecumenical councils and conferences of bishops have built up a vast body of tradition that effectively redirects the people away from basic biblical teachings. As with the Pharisees, they have "made the word of God of none effect."

Central to this body of tradition is the Eucharist. By declaring that it becomes the actual body, blood and divinity of Jesus when blessed by the priest, they

Short-Term Mission to—Alaska?

Church Finds New Way to Share Gospel

Soul winners continue to find unique ways to get the gospel into the hands of the unsaved. Pastor Reg Kelley of Liberty Faith Bible Church, Norwood, MO, was on a cruise to Alaska. When the cruise ships docked, thousands of people would pour off the ships to explore the town. God spoke to him that they needed a welcoming committee with information about the town and, of course, a gospel message.

When he returned home, he placed a challenge before his congregation to rent a house for the summer in Ketchikan, where teams from his church could spend a week meeting the 8000 people a day who came off the cruise ships. The people caught the vision and by the end of the summer, they had placed 140,000 Chick gospel tracts in the hands of the tourists who came to Ketchikan.

Along with the tracts, they prepared a top quality brochure of the attractions in Ketchikan and a Bible message on a CD. Pastor Kelley says he felt like they were "reaching the world" because tourists from all over the globe were on those ships.

Churches encourage their members to do "short term missions" going to foreign countries to help build a church building, dig a well or help a school. Pastor

Kelley's church has come up with a unique variation on this. Are there similar events or gatherings that you know of where hundreds or thousands of gospel messages can easily be placed into the hands of unbelievers?

When it comes to ships, other soul winners have used gospel tracts in a variety of languages to minister to shipping crews who load and unload cargo at ports around the country. These ships often welcome visitors aboard and are glad to receive literature in their languages. Do you live by a port where a ministry like this could be developed?

Besides tracts, Pastor Kelley also has a ministry to truckers. He has developed a network of contacts throughout the country where his church sends copies of sermons on CD. These are placed at truck stops in displays that say, "FREE—TAKE ONE." Several thousand CDs a month flow through this system into the truck cabs where bored drivers spend hours every day. The church then receives calls from cell phones with drivers asking for prayer or more information about the Bible.

These days, it is hard to get some people into the church. But with a little thought, we can take the gospel to them.

the major archeological discoveries in the Western Hemisphere. Queries to the Smithsonian brought this "diplomatic" response: "The Smithsonian Institution has never used the Book of Mormon in any way as a scientific guide. Smithsonian archeologists see no connection between the archeology of the New World and subject matter of the book... We know of no authentic cases of ancient Egyptian or Hebrew writing having been found in the New World."

Speaking of languages, Heinze points out that nowhere in any of the Native American languages do you find any traces of Hebrew or Egyptian roots. In addition, recent DNA testing and other evidence firmly links the Native Americans to Mongolian tribes, not Hebrew.

Then there is the problem of the animals. Book of Mormon, 1 Nephi chapter 18 verse 25 says that the immigrants found cows, oxen, donkeys, horses and goats in the American wilderness. But all of the animals listed were not native to the New World. They were all brought by the Europeans a thousand years after the supposed landing of the Jaredites and Lamanites.

How sad that 12 million Mormons are resting their eternal destiny on such fiction. Soul winners, we must do all we can to introduce them to the real Jesus Christ who is the Saviour of the true saints in these latter days.

Heinze's book is gentle enough to give to a Mormon who is willing to consider the truth. It also contains invaluable information for anyone considering becoming a Mormon or soul winners wanting to sharpen their witness to these precious, lost people.

'Biggest Street Party in the World' Seeded With 120,000 Tracts

The Mardi Gras Carnaval in Salvador, Brazil is the "biggest street party in the world," according to street evangelist Danny Callis. Held this year in mid February, it was attended by over 2 million people. Callis and his teams prepare months in advance. This year they distributed over 120,000 gospel tracts during the week of festivities.

The witnessing teams would set up a paint talk or music group on the side of the street to attract attention. Those who stopped to listen would be given tracts and soul winners would engage them in conversation. Callis reported that many were led to confess Christ as Saviour.

Some members of the teams were veteran street workers and others were new at it. But as the new ones watched, they soon caught on. One girl was very active helping with setup and support, but found difficulty in starting a conversation. Her heart was touched by a young man who approached her near the music team. He explained that he was having severe problems with his family. She counseled him for twenty minutes and then prayed with him. The team leader sent a veteran to help her but found she was doing fine. From then on, she was a bold soul winner at the front of the outreach.

The tracts were so well received that very few were discarded on the ground. Even then, others would pick them up and read them as they went along. One lady showed up at one of the teams with about 200 wet tracts that she had picked

Soul Winning Video Going Into More Languages

Progress continues on more translations of the powerful soul winning video, Light of the World. Here are some of the current projects:

Hundreds of copies of the finished video in Japanese have already been sent to missionaries in Japan to use among the groups of people they minister to. The Japanese people have long been cold to the gospel through national pride and ancestor worship. However, recent information indicates that many in the younger generation are becoming disillusioned and are looking for some other source for spiritual meaning. Pray that this video will get wide distribution with its message of hope through Jesus Christ.

The Russian translation narration has been recorded in Moscow and we expect to receive the sound files soon. Please pray for this project. Russia is becoming more and more hostile to Bible believers. Those who boldly stand for the truth are being challenged by increasingly restrictive laws.

Preparations have begun for translation into Arabic. This is another region of the world where hundreds of millions of lost souls worship a capricious, uncaring Allah. Barriers to the truth of the gospel are formidable. Those who convert to Christianity are outcast from their families, and sometimes murdered by their own relatives.

Jesus said, "And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come." (Matt. 24:14) This is the first generation with the technology to fulfill this scripture. With the gospel in so many forms: tracts, books, DVDs, and on the internet, it is much more difficult for false religions and godless governments to keep their people bound in ignorance.

Copies of this video have been sowed into the underground churches in the Far East and Africa. Missionaries using the Light of the World video in the local languages report many coming to know Jesus as Saviour. These translation projects are funded by the Chick missions fund. For information on how you can help with one of these translation projects, call 909-987-0771.

Our explorations on the moon have turned up many types of evidence that the earth and its moon have not been around the billions of years that evolutionists claim. The lunar dust is only one item of lunar evidence confounding the evolutionists.

With modern methods of measurement, scientists have discovered that the moon is traveling away from the earth at the rate of one and one-half inches a year. This means that, if it had been around more than a few thousand years, it would have been so close to the earth that it would have been pulled into the earth by gravity.

The moon rocks brought back by the astronauts also betrayed the old earth theory. They contained the short-term radioactive isotopes Uranium 236 and Thorium 230 that would have turned to lead in only a few thousand years. This, alone, is very important proof that the moon cannot be older than several thousand years.

Author Vance Ferrell, in his book, The Evolution Handbook, lists several other facts about the moon that confound the theory of evolution. The fact that the moon still has significant quakes, lava flows and gas emissions indicates a young moon. Also significant is the composition of the lunar soil and the presence of inert gases on the moon's surface

The hard evidence continues to overload the evolutionists' sinking ship of faith. To defend their position, they have to resort to shrill accusations that creationists are just trying to push religion. But the evidence is piling up on our side. Chick Publications has several excellent books you can use in witnessing to those suffering under evolution's big lie.

opened the Bible haphazardly and his eyes fell on Matt 11:28: "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

This teaching was so different from what he had been taught in Islam. Captivated, he read more. "Love your enemies...bless them that despitefully use you...do good to them that hate you."

All of his life he had prayed the standard Muslim prayer to be led in the right path—the right way. When Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth and the life," Ghazoli responded: "Yes, He is the way, and I surrendered my soul to the Lord Jesus Christ, and, behold, everything changed. It seemed as though I entered a different valley—a green, wonderful valley. How beautiful it is for the soul to surrender to its God and Lord, Jesus Christ."

In the first 40 years as a Muslim, Ghazoli rose to high positions in the Arab publishing world. With a university degree in economics and political science, he became editor of a major Arab newspaper and a consultant to Libyan leader Mu'ammar Qadhafi as well as other Arab leaders. He published dozens of books and wrote thousands of articles.

But his doubts and disillusionment with Islam remained in his heart until he received the Bible and found the God that he felt had to be out there somewhere.

First published in Arabic, Christ, Muhammad and I has been released in English. In it Ghazoli gives a brief story of his life, but the majority of the book is an analysis of the logical discrepancies and contradictions of the Qur'an and Muhammad's capricious god, Allah. He describes how Islam's Prophet built a religion around his own sexual lust and cold-hearted plunder of his neighbors.

Christ, Muhammad and I will provide valuable background for any soul winner dealing with the precious Muslim who is blindly following his Prophet but knows in his heart there ought to be a loving God somewhere Who cares about his soul. Ghazoli pleads with the reader to see that Jesus is the True Creator, not Muhammad's capricious, bloodthirsty Allah.

effectively force the people to come to them to "receive Jesus." No longer can they develop a personal relationship with Him, but must rely on their "church" to perform a ritual for them.

In case the person really insists on praying to Jesus, they have a convenient stand-in, their Virgin Mary Goddess. Jesus is cast as a formidable Judge best approached through His mother. If you want any kind of help from Him, you are more likely to get it by petitioning His mother, whom He is reluctant to refuse. And just to make it easy to reach her, you are given a convenient vain repetition: "Hail, Mary, Mother of God. Pray for us...." (See Matt. 6:7.)

These are the two traditional pillars keeping Roman Catholicism from collapsing. The word of God tells us that Jesus desires a personal relationship with us. All other religions remove His deity or obscure Him behind a cloud of ritual and unbiblical traditions.

Roman Catholicism is no exception. You can see how they, also, have made the word of God of none effect through their traditions.

Soul winners, be not deceived by their pious claims of being the true Christian church. The Pharisees claimed to be the true "believers," but Jesus called them hypocrites who made their disciples into "children of hell" through their traditions. (See Matt. 23:15.)

New Book Tells How a Respected Muslim

Mohammad al Ghazoli was a Muslim most of his life. But the more he read the Qur'an and Hadith (the holy literature of Islam), the more errors he saw. He learned that the Qur'an is full of errors. Some verses say one thing, then other verses "unsay" it.

The more he studied about the Prophet Muhammad, the more ungodliness he found. Every time Muhammad lusted after another woman, an "angel" supposedly gave him a new verse saying it was okay to take her (even if she was married).

This book provides facts, plus references in the Qur'an, to help you show Muslims the truth about the cruel religion that holds them in bondage. This is must reading in today's world, where Islam is challenging all others.

Leader Found The True, Loving God

Months ago, someone handed me a book on Islam unlike any I have ever read. It was not written by a non-Muslim, or by a Muslim who became a Christian at a young age. The author was a highly educated man who lived most of his adult life as a Muslim, in the elite class with the rulers of an Islamic country.

Then he got gloriously saved by Jesus Christ! It is amazing to see things through his eyes. He exposes Allah and his prophet Muhammad, an “angel” (supposedly Gabriel) who appeared to him, and the whole Islamic religion from the fresh perspective of someone who has seen the true God for the first time.

Through his insight, we experience the pain of women, Christians and Jews who were enslaved, tortured and killed by this religious system. We feel the emotions of fearful Muslims who are forbidden to leave under penalty of death. And we fully experience the amazing contrast between an angry Allah and our loving Jesus – between the Holy Bible and a corrupt Qur'an.

This book was so exciting! It held me speechless as I read. It was a storehouse of information! But more importantly, at every turn I saw Muhammad, “Gabriel” and Allah compared to our loving Saviour, Jesus Christ. You've got to experience this for yourself.

That is why I could not wait to see this book published. Mohammad Al Ghazoli, former advisor to President Mu' ammar Qadhafi of Libya, gave permission to edit his book in understandable English (it was originally written in Arabic). We added lots of footnotes to help us Westerners better understand Islam's history, and why it's so important to us today.

We are at a crossroads. Will we falter in our mission and believe the lie that Muslims serve the same God as Christians? Or will we take up the banner of truth and lovingly share Christ with these fearful people who are stuck in a hate-filled religion?

Once you see the truth about Islam through Ghazoli's eyes, you will never see Muslims the same again. May God help us to witness to these precious, lost souls.

We just wanted to let you know what a difference your tracts have made in our Christian walk. We have put many of them in our church for our young people as well as our old. The children not only love them themselves, but have taken them on the school bus to hand out to their friends. The children at school keep asking for more. We also have been sending assortment packs to new believers to help them in their walk with Christ. We have seen a lot of changes in their lives due to reading them. We thank God most of all for working on their hearts through your tracts.

Kids Love Chick Tracts — All Over the World

Chick Tracts in a hundred languages are hard at work sharing the gospel all over the world. Children especially love the comic format. Here are some photos shared with us by missionaries from different corners of the globe.

Missionary Kenneth Bruce writes:
Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,
Just wanted you to see the Lord at work in Indonesia. The attachment is a picture of kids waving their Indonesian language tracts from a Catholic Orphanage in Indonesia. The amazing thing about this picture is that it was a Catholic Institution and the Nuns asked for extra tracts. God is good! Chick tracts work and they do get read!

The three boys in the bottom picture received the tracts from Philippine Pastor Rodellio Mallari. Other pictures are from Thailand and Poland. The tracts were supplied by the Chick Mission Fund. Many soul winners who use Chick tracts are blessed with extra funds that they send to us so that more tracts can be supplied to missionaries working in all parts of the world.

Missionaries and native pastors find that they can never get enough literature to use to expand their outreach. Chick Publications receives many more requests than we can fill but every dollar that comes in goes directly for literature for these worthy ministries. But we have to caution that we are not authorized to give a tax-deductible receipt for these gifts.

Tract Passing Tips

I put Chick tracts in clear ziplock baggies with a little rock inside and leave them on driveways. I usually fill up a bag with Chick tracts and hop on my bicycle and deliver them that way. It works great! I can get a LOT out in a short period of time. Over 100 in about 30 minutes.

— Ryan

At every high school you will find many student automobiles parked along the adjacent streets. On occasion when passing our local high school I will park and track 30-40 of those automobiles. I often pass by after school is out and I've never seen any discarded tracts lying in the street. Obviously, they are being read. Some of my favorites for this are, "Big Daddy", "Somebody Goofed", "The Great Escape", and "The Long Trip".

— L. G. Lake Forest, CA

Little Girl: ‘Dad, We’re Not Doing Very Well!’

Recently a customer called to order another 10,000 tracts with a special message on the back cover. He said he had ordered before but had not bothered to reorder when he ran out. He said his 10-year-old daughter gave him a wake-up call.

When they were having family devotions they read the verse about being the salt of the earth. He asked his family how they thought they were doing at being salty. His daughter said, “Not very well.”

When he asked why, she said, “We don’t give tracts to people and leave tracts at phone booths and restaurants any more!”

The father said that her words struck him in the heart so he immediately placed another order.

Jesus said that the road to life was narrow and only a few would find it. But we do not know who they are, so we have to spread the seed widely to find those few. For the rest, the tract will be a testimony against those who refuse the gospel when they stand before the Great White Throne judgment.

Every soul winner needs to ask himself that question: “How is my salt?” Our culture is rotting from the inside. Salt is preservative as well as flavor. Every Bible believer needs to do his part in flavoring the culture with gospel truth.

Who else will do it? Hollywood and the public schools are the devil’s playground anymore. The government can’t fix the culture. Only the Bible believers and soul winning churches can stand against Satan’s bulldozer. And we better get busy, the night is coming when no man can work.

up in the street. She said she was going to take them home and dry them out and use them in her church’s hospital ministry. The team made sure she had additional tracts that were dry.

One young man came and after prayer, took out a set of keys and threw them away. He explained that they were special keys that he had brought with him every year to steal motorcycles. He said that this would be the first year that he would not steal motorcycles at Carnaval.

The police expressed special appreciation for the “light” that the outreach teams brought to the “darkness”. One police lady had been called in from the countryside to help with the crowds. Before she left home, she expressed concern about the assignment to her mother. “God is waiting for you in Salvador. Don’t worry,” her mother told her.

When she got off the bus at her substation, she heard Christian music. She walked around to the side of the station and found one of the music teams praising God in the midst of the revelry. She was so excited that God had prepared that “just for her.” Many other officers received the gospel through the tracts, even asking for extra copies to give to their buddies.

One young man got off a bus and was immediately drawn to the Christian music. A soul winner engaged him in conversation and found that he had “given up on church” and come to Carnaval to “do it all.” The Holy Spirit gripped his heart and he sobbed his way back to the Lord. Afterward he walked to the bus stop and caught a bus back toward home.

You don’t have to go to the other side of the world to do “event evangelism.” Any hometown parade or sports game attracts a crowd. And most of them need the gospel message of hope. What are the events in your community where you can plant the seed of the gospel by tracts and personal witnessing?

I was in jail when I first read Chick tracts. Someone in jail with me bought your assortment kit with 80 tracts. I saw the tracts go from jail cell to jail cell. The jail went from 5 saved men to 80 men, who were converted and love Jesus through your ministry. It helped us reach the lost.

— G. W. Florida

I remember when all I had in a small two bed cell, was a "Next Step" book and a Bible in which to study God's Word. As I read and knew the truth of it, then I recommitted my life to Christ. Today as I look back on my life I see as how, through the years, the Lord has used my life as a testimony for His kingdom. I once had an opportunity to share my story or a part of it at a Salvation Army service. I've been using Chick literature in my own street evangelistic work.

A message from Jack Chick

Dear ones in Christ,

Today I was told what happened to a lady in the Seattle area. She worked in a convalescent type facility and a number of employees were from Sierra Leone, Africa, all of whom were Muslim. One man became very angry when he noticed the little golden cross she was wearing. He said Christianity was a lie and the gospel was bull. He also made a death threat. That man was later given a leave of absence for mistreating a patient.

This story made sense because I had just read a book by Brigitte Gabriel entitled Why They Hate (well worth reading). Her book reveals Muslim thinking which is entirely different from ours. In contrast to the politicians, she shows us what we are really facing and it isn't pretty. She reveals the deep-seated hate they harbor for any faith other than Islam.

This is a cruel religion, now on the offensive, backed with oil money, and committed to using weapons of mass destruction. The goal is an Islamic world. Europe is undergoing riots, which will eventually happen here. We are facing a powerful force. Prison officials are rejecting Chick gospel tracts but embracing Islamic publications.

In America, the Muslims have an organization called Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR) which attacks anything they find offensive to Muslims. Besides coming through our borders, Muslims are having large families to increase their influence in our culture. Their ultimate goal is an Islamic flag over our White House.

So, here we are facing an enemy within—who hates us. What are we to do as Bible believers? The Lord Jesus said, "Love your enemies." We must pray for the salvation of these precious Muslims who are lost and without hope. We must try our best to lead them away from their moon god, Allah, to the true and living God. Muslims, like all others, are sinners heading for the lake of fire.

John Wesley said, "A tract is the easiest way to reach a sinner." He should know. By salting down England with gospel tracts and strong preaching, the nation was saved from revolution.

Our young people are a primary target of Islam—and they are on the offensive.

But so are we. God has given us a tract that He has promised to bless. It is probably the simplest gospel we have ever produced. It's called Set Free? and we can hardly keep up with the orders. Try to get at least 5 tracts into the hands of young people each week.

God told us that the "righteous are as bold as a lion" and that His word will not return void. This scripture is for you: "And in nothing terrified by your adversaries; which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God." Philippians 1:28.

The gospel is more powerful than Islam, so let's take on the enemy with boldness, rescuing the precious souls who are trapped in this cruel religion.

Your brother in Christ,
