

Prayer Rally Tainted with Ecumenism

The call to prayer for the culture's drift away from God is resulting in huge rallies. One recently drew over 100,000 participants to the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. The event was held on the 110th anniversary of the Pentecostal Azusa Street revival.

Organizer of this and similar events worldwide is Lou Engle of The Call ministries. Promotional material for the event stated: "...we will boldly ask God for the rain of revival. We will consecrate an entire day —15 hours— for the purpose of unity, miracles, healing and the proclamation of the gospel."

In front of the rally, Lou Engle kisses the shoe of Roman Catholic Matteo Calisi in a gesture of "reconciliation" between Catholics and Protestants. Unity at any price!

Satanists Pressure Schools for Equal Opportunity

In response to allowing Gideons to distribute free bibles, a Delta County, Colorado, school district is being forced to agree to allow satanic coloring books to also be distributed. For over 100 years, the Gideons have given millions of free Bibles and New Testaments to public school children. School officials have generally cooperated with this effort. But, in today's brave new world, opposition is rising from Satan's troops. The Freedom From Religion Foundation (FFRF), the Satanic Temple, and Western Colorado Atheists and Freethinkers pressured for equal access.

A precedent was set in Orange County, Florida last year where the school district spent $90,000 unsuccessfully resisting the pressure in court. School officials have a

Is ‘Solidarity’ the Same as Witnessing?

By Gina Wilson

Amidst the growing number of Muslims in the United States, should we stand in solidarity with their faith? Or show them that we believe in something entirely different?

I have seen a number of stories in the news where a Christian woman wears a hijab (the Islamic women’s head covering) to stand in “solidarity” with Muslims. One woman wore the hijab to show, in her words, that we all “worship the same God.” Another woman did so in order to show that she loves Muslims and refugees. While I appreciate the “love and care” sentiment as much as the next person, there are some glaring reasons why this act of solidarity is not helpful in reaching Muslims for Christ.

The hijab is extremely representative of Islam. Before donning it, one must thoroughly examine everything this “solidarity” represents. Failing to do so will only display our own ignorance of the issue, as opposed to being a well thought-out and meaningful action which might help Muslims living near us realize we truly do love them.

The hijab is more than a head covering. In Islam, wearing the head covering is a symbol of submission to Allah. More than a symbol of subservience to one’s husband (for in many cases it is not), the hijab broadcasts to the entire watching world that you, whoever you may be, are submitting to ALLAH!

For soul winners, a statement of “solidarity” with your Muslim neighbors and friends simply confuses the issue. What is helpful is developing solid friendships with them and having discussions about Jesus. When they understand that we believe

Same-Sex Marriage Didn’t End It

Anyone who thought that legalizing same-sex marriage would end the hassles is in for a rude surprise. Unexpected consequences are popping up all over. The mayor of Charlottesville, N. Carolina followed the Houston playbook and passed an ordinance that “transgendered” men, who “identified” as women, could freely use the women’s bathrooms and changing rooms. The state legislature responded by convening a special session to pass a statewide law protecting the privacy of North Carolina ladies.

Homosexual outrage exploded. 100 corporate CEOs signed a letter to the governor demanding repeal of the state law. These were not small outfits, either: Apple, Bank of America, Yahoo, and Barnes and Noble all signed on. Paypal moved to punish North Carolina by cancelling plans to build a new operations center there that would employ about 400 people. Washington state and New York immediately directed state bureaucrats to avoid doing business there. Federal officials were scrambling to see how they could cut off funding for state programs.

At present, North Carolina is standing strong. Not so in many other states. Georgia governor vetoed a bill that would have protected Christian businesses from lawsuits if they decline to provide wedding cakes or photography services to same-sex couples.

The Washington state Human Rights Commission issued a mandate that all restrooms and changing rooms in public and business buildings be open to all “genders.” San Francisco, California is proposing a regulation that would replace the signs on most single-stall public restrooms to “gender-neutral.” Over 150 colleges and universities have already joined that club.

Satan's New Plan to fix your Bible.

For 1500 years, Satan failed in his plan to burn all the Bibles and Bible believers. Did he give up or does he have another plan?

God had no sooner begun speaking to mankind, than His enemy was right there with a slimy dose of doubt: "Yea, hath God said?" Four little words, but they worked. Adam and Eve swallowed it and "the rest is history!"

But what about that history? How has Satan capitalized on his first win? Within a few generations, the earth was full of rebellion—the fruit of doubt. God "repented" that He had made man in the first place. All that saved us was Noah's faith, and a big boat.

Satan continued chipping away at mankind's trust, diverting it to worship of the creation—sun, moon, golden calves and bank accounts. But his main enemy was the Word, both the written and the person of Jesus Christ. However, his focus on Christ failed. When the devils confronted Jesus, they could only plead for mercy and squirm away.

So Satan turned to the written word. Israel had faithfully copied the books of the Old Testament so he had to find a way to attack them as well as the new writings of the apostles forming the New Testament.

Being the expert at lying, he knew that his best bet was to try to mix falsehood, fantasy and fairy stories with the truth. In the formation of what we now call our Bible, Satan trotted out many candidates like the bogus Shepherd of Hermas and Epistle of Barnabas, the legends of the Maccabees, the spurious wisdom of Esdras and Ecclesiasticus, and many others. When none made the cut, his fury fueled the bloody 1000-year Inquisition, administered by his counterfeit church headquartered in the Vatican.

In spite of Satan's efforts, God kept His promise to preserve His word. (See Matt. 24:35) Faithful copies had been translated couple of choices; either allow all brands of literature in or rule all types out. Selecting one against another sets them up for charges of discrimination.

Parents, of course, often have few choices when trying to protect their children's innocence. Some are moving to home schooling if parental time is available. Others look to private schools where funds permit. Many do not have these options. In any case, it comes down to parental involvement, guiding the child's understanding between the godly and ungodly.

In the flood released by the "information age," parents are hard pressed to sort the good from the not-so-good, as well as the evil. Before the internet, monitoring the child's books was relatively simple. Public schools were generally on the side of parents in guiding children to the wholesome. Now, evil is only a mouse click away, and the government schools have joined the enemy in many cases.

But this is an example of what happens to a culture when the salt and light of the gospel fades. Some are marching for government leaders to solve it by ever more restrictive policies. But government here cannot be the savior. America's founding fathers set up a level playing field for all religions—or lack thereof. Even when government backs the "right religion," lust for power soon sets in and persecution follows, usually focused on Bible believers.

Many parents write to Chick Publications, grateful for the unwavering stand for Truth in the tracts and books. They also appreciate our stand for the proven inspiration of the Classic English KJV Bible as the foundation for that have issued executive orders that all city-owned buildings such as schools, offices and leisure centers must allow transsexuals to use the bathroom or changing room of their choice.

Other confusion is showing up in sports where a husky, male-bodied “trans” reports for practice with the girl’s team. This might be an advantage in non-contact sports like baseball or even basketball. But like one female Mixed Martial Arts fighter complained: “I’ve never felt so overpowered in my life,” after suffering a couple of broken bones from a “trans” opponent. Even the International Olympic Committee has capitulated, allowing transgender athletes to compete against opposite genders.

Of the dozens of articles researched for this writing, one topic got little coverage: transgenders pay a huge price in physical and psychological health. Therapists report a 40 percent attempted suicide rate and 60-90 percent exhibit serious psychiatric disorders. Two in 10 had significant regrets about having transitioned, yet going back was not easy, particularly if they had been permanently physically mutilated by reassignment surgery.

When homosexuals first began to come

Truth. One mother writes: “We are a family of ten (My husband and I with eight children who have grown up on Chick tracts). My husband found Chick tracts at phone booths and laundry mats growing up and they were seeds toward his salvation. The children absolutely LOVE passing them out to people, and just reading them themselves!”

Another parent wrote: “When my little children grew up and received Christ themselves, they used to love me to read a Chick tract to them in place of a bedtime story. Of course I had to make all the different voices out of the closet several decades ago, research showed that violence and disease cut the average life expectancy of the promiscuous male homosexual to a little over half the rest of the population. A recent study by the Centers for Disease Control reveals a shocking level of violence in the “gay” community.

The real surprise was the violence between lesbians. 44 percent reported either rape, physical abuse or stalking by their intimate partners. For males, it was 26 percent. The study also supported the point made in the Chick tract, Home Alone, that many who end up involved with the homosexual lifestyle were molested as children.

We are seeing in real life why God calls this sin an “abomination.” Satan’s fingerprints are all over the death and destruction that it causes. The demons that pounded on Lot’s door have done a masterful job betraying America. Some officials are beginning to fight back.

Soul winners, if we stand for righteousness, others will be encouraged to follow along. Chick Publications has several tracts that speak to this issue. If we sow them liberally, others may see that there is another side to this issue —God’s side.

but they loved it. Soon the older ones were reading them on their own.... They grew up on them as I did. They also learned about the falsehood of evolution and other important themes that Christians should take a stand on.”

We are eternally grateful for the many such testimonies that have come to us over the years. To help parents select the right tract or book for the moment, all tracts can be read on our web site: www.chick.com. Books and Comics are reviewed so you can see what will be helpful with your youngsters.

and preserved by a hunted remnant until Gutenberg’s printing presses began to flood Europe, for the first time making the Bible available to the common man. A powerful British king, James I, got behind the preserved words of God and “authorized” the translation and publication of a classic English version, the KJV.

For a couple hundred years, Satan tried, again through the counterfeit church, to produce competing Bibles to take down the KJV. Nothing worked! Thousands of missionaries, dozens of revivals, millions of fired up believers circled the globe with the “good news” in this powerful book. Christ’s promise that the gospel would be preached to all nations (Matt 24:14) came about largely through the KJV and translations of it.

However, in his frustration, Satan was cooking on plan B. Someone suggested that the KJV was getting a bit dated. After much debate, Bible Revision Committees were formed for the task of bringing it up to date. Here, Satan saw his chance. Organizers of the committees were not careful to staff them only with true believers. Roman Catholics were invited, as well as Unitarians, who deny Christ’s deity.

In the previous decade, “ancient” manuscripts had shown up, claiming to be more accurate to the “originals.” Again, the counterfeit church was deeply involved in this maneuver. The plot was to replace the authorized English Bible with a more up-to-date one based on those “better” manuscripts.

For over a hundred years plan B has proceeded with little resistance. The English world is awash in “modern” versions. But recent research has uncovered the hidden details of the plot to publicly discredit the authorized Bible and replace it with a multitude of confusing versions creating basic doubt of God’s words —“Yea, hath God said?” Satan’s first attack of doubt has come full circle.

For the sordid details of Satan’s nefarious plan B, see the YouTube vlogs by David W. Daniels from Chick Publications. See www.chick.com/bible for more books and info.

CHICK MAIL BAG

George Smythe from Washington shared this story: He and his wife are retired and about 7 years ago started a full-time prison ministry. They travel around to many different states and pass out Bibles and our tracts. And they stay and speak with the prisoners sharing Jesus’ love for them. He said one of the highlights of their ministry was when they heard back from a prison in Idaho, just last year, where they had shared the gospel and tracts with 800 inmates. 200 hundred of them got saved and the Chaplain said their lives had obviously changed. What a difference they were seeing in that prison now.

Jesus is God Almighty it becomes clear to your Muslim friends that Allah and God are nowhere near the same, nor would you ever wish to submit to Allah. It helps them understand what you believe and, ultimately, will show them that you love them enough to make sure they know the truth and the good news of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

In my book, When the Mosque Comes to Town, I devote two chapters on how to share Jesus with your Muslim friends. These chapters will help you understand how to effectively witness and share who Jesus is, starting with the Old Testament prophecies and working your way through New Testament fulfillment. Muslims often question whether Jesus can really be God and few Christians succeed in effectively showing them why He, indeed, is. This is possibly one of the most crucial questions that you need to have an answer for when witnessing to Muslims.

Of course, to confidently present the biblical truth about Jesus, it is necessary to convince them of the reliability of the Bible. They will likely have been told that the Bible has many changes and is corrupt. Though they do not know where the changes have occurred or how it became “corrupted,” this is a commonly held belief.

The simple and confident answer to this, however, is to tell them that you have the preserved Bible, the KJV, which is completely without error and can be traced all the way back to the earliest manuscripts we know of, including the Dead Sea Scrolls. When Muslims come to realize that God has, indeed, preserved His words, confidence in the Bible is restored and they are far more apt to listen to what you have to say.

I strongly encourage you to pick up a copy of When the Mosque Comes to Town and learn how to share and defend your faith today! Chick Publications also has several other books on Islam and tracts designed specifically to help you witness to Muslims.

Missions Fund Report

Chick tracts continue to extend the reach of missionaries all over the world. Here are a few new reports:

Kathy Smith — India

Working with the Independent Church in India (ICII), Smith focuses on equipping native pastors and missionaries using training seminars and a Bible school. She writes: “We have so many requests for these tracts that it is difficult to equip them with all the materials they need. They will reach unreached tribal areas and very remote villages where the Gospel has never been preached before!”

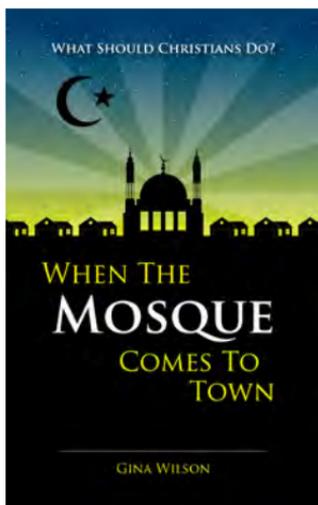

Local pastors report that the tracts are most useful in starting conversations with the tribal people: “We are seeing a lot of people responding by using the Chick tracts in the tribal areas. These are the pagan tribes that actually do infant sacrifices to their Hindu gods. We have seen many of these people stop doing the baby sacrifice since they have received the Lord. The Chick tracts make it so much easier to reach these kinds of people.”

One pastor reported 20 new young people saved, baptized and attending church regularly. “Thanks so much again for these awesome tracts! God is using them mightily here in India!” Writes Kathy.

Is Allah Really God? Or someone else?

Most people assume that Allah and the God of the Bible are one and the same. But are they? One gave His Son. The other has no son. One is always true, but the other misleads whomever he wishes.

Missions Fund Focus on India

We have been working in India for a number of years. We have a working relationship with some brethren there who are very familiar with local ministries, and who help us choose the best places to put the literature. They also arrange for printing there in India, and arrange delivery. We depend upon them for the necessary accountability.

Here are the main ministries who received tracts in India through the Missions Fund:

2015 Projects

Excel VBS Ministries – 80,000 tracts – They conduct VBS programs in India in which they reach tens of thousands of children across India. They then send those children home with a Chick tract to show the Gospel message they learned to the rest of their family.

Gilgal Ministries – 200,000 tracts in English, Hindi, Bengali, Tamil, Malayalam, Kannada and Telugu - Gilgal Ministries has an interesting approach. Under the new Hindu leader, India is becoming more hostile to Christians in some areas. Gilgal provides teams who camp near a local church for 3-5 days and saturate the community with tracts. They visit every home and when they find someone interested in the gospel, they pass the lead back to the local pastor. Then they are on the next church before the authorities catch on.

ICII – Independent Church of India – 210,000 tracts in Tamil, Telugu, Kannada and Punjabi – They spread the tracts throughout the churches in their group, who use them for local evangelism and have actually started new churches with them.

Timothy Institute – 100,000 tracts in English, Hindi, Gujarati, Malayalam and Marathi – Once again, I will let our agent there describe what they do: “Timothy does

Ray Hoover - Ethiopia

"We have just returned from a five day trek way up in the mountains of Hosanna. We have found a village of Ethiopian Jews and we hopefully will start a church there. We took 1000 Chick booklets and passed every one of them out, in fact we could have taken 2000 and they would have all been taken. Praise the Lord we saw over 30 precious souls come to Christ."

Bill Eubanks — South Africa

"We have had tremendous feedback from the Muslim tract Your Best Life. It is mild enough that they would read it with interest and I know the truth is so clearly presented some might be won for Christ. (Bill thinks it is a great one!) I got a call from a Christian today saying he was so excited about Your Best Life because he was always trying to witness to his Muslim friends.

David Wilson — Kenya

"I just got back from Kenya. Our biggest problem was to stop the youth trampling each other as we offered your This Was Your Life tract after the preaching. In the schools, we had to give the exact number to the teachers to give out later in their classrooms. In the open air, we had to silently move through the crowd as they watched the film and secretly give out the tracts. Very different from America!

Many thanks for your investment in the kingdom of God.

to have it done by spring. Here are the projects for this year:

El Shaddai Gospel Ministries – 210,000 tracts in Hindi, Tamil, Kannada, Bengali, Telugu and English - They are a rural church support ministry which takes up the assignment of personal evangelism for churches.

On invitation, they go and settle near to suburban or rural churches and go two by two as evangelists to houses and villages nearby. Most of the Suburban towns have several villages around them. They evangelize for the church and invite interested people in the neighborhood to the church that invited them. They are a well organized team of people working from Northern regions of India all the way down to south. Since their work is spread throughout India, they have a much wider coverage of languages than any other ministry.

Intercollegiate Prayer Fellowship – 75,000+ tracts in Hindi and English - Their work is centered around Prisons of Delhi and Noida and also Tihar jail, one of the largest prisons in India.

Sharon Roja Ministries – 45,000 tracts in Tamil - They conduct a pastors meeting every month where they teach Bible and give free tracts for pastors. They are now starting a pastor's meeting in Salem district also. They work with nearly 300 pastors and need lots of tracts (20,000 tracts/month) in Tamil. This is an established ministry working in Dharmapuri for over 15 years. Dharmapuri is one of the most rural and under developed districts of Tamilnadu.

Most believers will agree on the need for revival and rejoice at any sincere effort to proclaim the gospel and bring the nation to repentance. Yet Satan cannot allow such effort without deviously infiltrating it. This event was not without his infiltration.

Such events invariably carry a flavoring of ecumenism introduced by the Charismatic movement of the last century. A focus on miracles and spiritual gifts ignored those who expressed concern about being unequally yoked with those who hold unbiblical beliefs. Because they exhibited these gifts, Roman Catholic leaders were welcomed disregarding the fact that the popes have always held to a works-based gospel.

The Los Angeles event was no different. Engle's inclusion of "unity" in the meeting's purpose was followed through by his inviting members of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles to, "Come join your brothers and sisters at the Memorial Coliseum believing for a move of unity and an outpouring of the Holy Spirit."

One of the speakers was Mateo Calisi, a member of the Pontifical Council and the Pope Francis's front man in selling unity to the Protestants. Calisi told the audience that it was a "diabolical sin" for Catholics and Christians to be divided. He also declared that Jesus "doesn't care" about disagreement on biblical doctrine. "We are not going to be known by our differences...but for the love we have for one another," he said.

Then, Calisi stated that he would like to wash Engle's feet as a gesture of reconciliation, but since it was not possible under the circumstances, he prostrated himself at Engle's feet, kissing his shoe as others placed hands on their backs. Moments later, Engle returned the favor by also kissing Calisi's shoe.

Several things are wrong with this picture. During the Charismatic Renewal, as long as you had the spiritual gifts of miracles, speaking in tongues, and prophecy, Jesus "didn't care" about doctrinal differences. Today, love is the unity factor—again claiming that Jesus doesn't care.

Love does cover a multitude of sins, but we are counseled not to be yoked with unbelievers. Calisi claimed that "He [Jesus] doesn't care about our differences. We are not going to be known by our differences... but for the love we have for one another."

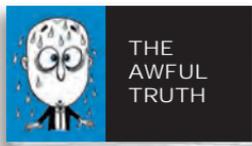

But how can we ignore the multitude of unbiblical doctrinal "differences" like pagan wafer-god worship, a Virgin Mary goddess as an alternate advocate, and a different gospel of works-based salvation?

What kind of love is he talking about? If it is just a squishy feeling, it doesn't fit the biblical definition. Biblical love speaks truth to those who are in danger of missing heaven.

Jesus identified this counterfeit church in Rev. 17 and 18 and said "come out of her," not cozy up to her and kiss her shoe.

Prayer meetings for revival are desperately needed, but repentance from dead works must be the result, not "unity" with those who pray to a Virgin Mary goddess.

The pope is capitalizing on the ignorance of the Protestants, using a foggy definition of love to promote an unbiblical "unity." Chick Publications has many tracts, books and comics exposing the pagan basis of Roman Catholicism. Visit www.chick.com for details why this false church is really anti-Christ, no matter how "loving" they are.

A MESSAGE FROM JACK CHICK...

Dear Ones in Christ:

My friend Tim Berends passes out 300 tracts a day to reach some of the 41 million people worldwide who visit Las Vegas each year. Tim shines when he tries to give a believer in Christ a tract, and they turn him down, saying, "Oh, I don't need that. I'm saved." Tim answers, "Then you can give it to someone else." Some take it. But others pull back and avoid him at all costs. Believe me, Christians like that are nailed by the scriptures and will stand before the Lord Jesus Christ. They will have to give an account for why they ignored the lost.

We produce soul winning tracts, because in Ezekiel 3:18 we are given a direct order. "When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning ...his blood will I require at thine hand." Beloved, we are responsible. But even if we don't have time to warn them, a gospel tract placed in their hand can do its job. Untold thousands have come to Jesus that way.

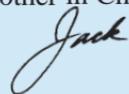

God warns us twice on this issue. Proverbs 24:11-12 says, "If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death (and hell), and those that are ready to be slain (the unsaved); If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not (and we know flat-out the lost will be cast into the lake of fire) ...he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works?"

It doesn't matter whether we don't really care, or we are too afraid. We are all guilty.

You've heard what people say. "We must reach them, one by one, by our lifestyle," or "Tracts are offensive." This fiction was instigated by Satan and his Jesuits. Our theological seminaries are filled with Jesuit-influenced books. Professors kill soul winning and criticize the scriptures. They wouldn't be caught dead passing out a tract. Neither would their students, who become the new pastors. Then they are also against soul winning.

But soul winning is our responsibility, not our church's. There are thousands we have never warned. But we have gospel tracts that can reach them, even when we don't have time. It's a small thing to us. But it's life or death to them.
