Catholic ‘Evangelist’ Carried the Wrong Gospel

In a recent speech, Pope Benedict XVI held up “Saint” Alphonsus Liguori as a “model for evangelization.” Liguori was born into a rich Italian family in 1696. Brilliant and precocious, he finished law school at age 16 and never lost a case in his eight years of law practice. At that point, he gave up riches and success to become a priest and began working among the poor around Naples.

Benedict lauds him for setting up prayer groups and encouraging the people to work to better themselves. The groups expanded and Liguori’s book, “Glories of Mary,” was a major instrument in elbowing Jesus aside and placing the Virgin Mary goddess at the focal center of Roman Catholicism.

KJV: 400 Years of God’s Power in English

During 2011, there are dozens of celebrations of the 400th anniversary of the King James Bible in the English speaking world. Some are making the point that it was the first Bible printed in the US and is the most published book ever with over a billion copies printed.

Others are recognizing that, for over 300 years, it was not only the standard for God’s word in English, but it also standardized the English language. The KJV appeared just as the English language was emerging from the various streams of Anglo-Saxon, Scotch, Irish, European

Prime Opportunity to Help Jehovah's Witnesses

By Daniel Rodriguez

Media skeptics have recently had a field day ridiculing Christians over radio preacher Harold Camping's failed prediction of the end of the world on May 21. To get out of the humiliation, Camping borrowed an excuse used several times by the Jehovah's Witnesses: It really did happen, but only in the spirit world. Manifestation will occur later, like on October 21.

The Watchtower Society has had many such failed prophecies since its inception. People make light of those who make such prophecies, but to the faithful who heed them, it can be catastrophic emotionally, financially and spiritually. Many sell their homes and property, or become disenchanted with their faith entirely.

The early Jehovah's Witnesses experienced a series of failed dates. The years 1874, 1914, 1915, 1918, 1925, the period of WWII and 1975 were some of the dates that the Watchtower Society had set for "the end." These dates are fully documented in the Watchtower's official literature; however, the 1975 date the Watchtower had set turned out to be the worst public relations nightmare the organization had ever seen.

The Watchtower had even encouraged their Witnesses to sell their homes and property by saying, "Reports are heard of brothers selling their homes and property. . . . Certainly, this is a fine way to spend the time remaining before the wicked world's end." (Kingdom Ministry, 1974, p. 3) Approximately 100,000 Jehovah's Witnesses left the organization each year after 1975 because of this failed prophecy.

Date setting for "the end" is a dangerous teaching for those who follow organizations such as the Watchtower Society.

Liguori went on to establish a missionary society known as the Redemptorists. After his death he was canonized (made a saint) and declared a "Doctor of the Church." This title was given in part because of the dozens of books that he wrote, many of which have become classics in presenting Roman Catholic dogma. One of Liguori's most famous books was "The Glories of Mary." Although written in the eighteenth century, it became the basis of the Vatican's teaching on the Virgin Mary goddess. This worship of the lowly mother of Christ, along with adoration of the wafer-god, the Eucharist, forms the heart of the unbiblical Roman Catholic system.

The prayer groups that Liguori held were much different from Bible-based gatherings. Adoration of the Eucharist was among the most important forms of prayer that he taught. He also stated in "The Glories of Mary" that "No one can enter heaven unless by Mary, as though through a door."

Today, many Bible believers are tricked into believing that Roman Catholics are Christians. But how can we have true fellowship with someone who believes that their communion wafer is the "body, blood and divinity" of Jesus, or that the only way to heaven is through Mary?

Also, how can we join with them in

This book will help you to find out what Masonry believes, compared to what the Bible says.

For Christians, the Bible is our only reliable source to learn who God is, and what He wants for us, including how to get our sins forgiven and have eternal life in heaven with Him.

You must be able to answer this question with confidence and understanding:

“Should a Christian be a Mason?”

To do that, we need to find out these things:

- Where did Masonry come from?
- What do Masons believe?
- Who can we trust for our information?
- Who is God, according to these trusted authorities?
- Is the God of the Bible the same as the god of Masonry?

By the end of this book you will be able to answer these questions for yourself.

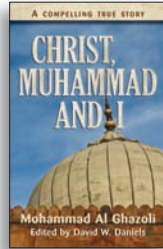

Many U.S. Mosques Teach Violence Against Non-Muslims

Evidence continues to mount that the Muslims who have been welcomed into America, are not generally interested in joining our way of life, but are plotting to replace it. A recent investigation of 100 mosques picked at random in all parts of the country, found that over 80 percent recommended Muslim study texts promoting violence against non-Muslims.

The researchers concluded that most mosques were actually incubators for violent overthrow of our way of life. The leaders were not here to flourish in the freedom we enjoy, but to destroy it instead. The political climate and secular world view does not provide an adequate response to this kind of attack. In fact, since this is a spiritual attack by a dynamic, militant, false religion, politics and atheistic humanism are no match. The only adequate response has to be a spiritual one.

Some in the government and media are beginning to become concerned. Rep. Peter King has been holding committee hearings trying to spotlight this danger. He has been under relentless attack by Muslim leaders and sympathizers and a tolerance-or-die media.

What we really need is a serious concern by Bible believers. Since this is a spiritual war behind the violence, only a spiritual counterattack will work. We get a clue from the fact that, 50 years ago, Muslim leaders discouraged their members from coming to the U.S. They feared that the superior teachings of the Bible would open the eyes of their people to the pagan bondage of Islam. Now they have little to fear. The churches are either ignoring this fertile mission field or welcoming them with open arms as fellow worshippers of the same "monotheistic deity."

This leaves Bible believers as the only real hope for America in this conflict. Iraq

Sodomite War Stories

The governor of Illinois signed a "civil union" law into effect on January 31, 2011. It took only a month for Bible believers Jim and Beth Walder to feel its effect. The Walders own a bed and breakfast hotel in Paxton, Illinois.

When two men were refused reservations for a civil union ceremony, they filed a complaint with the state authorities claiming that the Walders were violating the new law. Even if the Walders win in court, the distraction and litigation costs may destroy their small, family business. The family has also been deluged with obscene phone calls and emails. And their prospects are not good. A similar case in England ended with the owners of a B&B there fined several thousand dollars. The judge determined that discrimination against "sexual orientation" was worse than "discrimination" against the Christian owners for their religious beliefs. They, too, have endured hundreds of harassing phone calls and obscene emails.

Ancient Chick Tract Still Doing Its Job

Passing tracts sometimes requires strong faith that the seed will be watered and give an increase that only eternity will reveal. But occasionally stories surface that prove that good, no-nonsense gospel literature will, indeed, do the job. Such a story came to us from James Madden, a Chick distributor in Brazil. He writes the following:

Some years ago I was in a little town called Paulista in PE Brazil. I was at a lunch shack buying something and gave the teller a copy of This Was Your Life in Portuguese (Esta Foi A Sua Vida) I turned around and noticed at a table seated behind me there were two deaf mute people talking, and lo and behold

one was sharing the gospel with the other one. The one who was sharing the gospel was using a very old copy of This Was Your Life (Portuguese), going page by page through the book and explaining the pictures and telling the story to the other deaf mute who was not able to read himself... Later, after he was done sharing the gospel I got a chance to try and talk to him.

He had the tract for some years, had received it from a missionary as a young teenager and kept it as a treasure sharing the gospel with many people over the years—reaching people that he could not have reached otherwise. I often wonder at the original missionary who gave him that tract or the people who may have contributed money for the special printing of that print run of tracts. To this day they have no idea how far their gospel has gone out.

You can see from the attached pictures that the tract had a lot of mileage on it. Besides, that back Missionary Birgir Andreassen (preaching) took 18,000 tracts to Romania. He writes:

“I’m now back from a very good trip in Romania. Nineteen years ago, God spoke to a Gypsy chieftain named John in a dream. He was saved, sold his 40 cars and invested all his money to help poor gypsies. Today there are about 1000 saved gypsies.

They have for 13 years asked God to send them help. They were expecting the Lord to send a rich American but the Lord answered their prayer by sending us from the Faroe Islands in the middle of the North Atlantic. For these gypsies it was great miracle. You should have heard how they praised God.

We held meetings and visited the gypsies in their homes. They were very happy with the tracts, which they read immediately.”

Ancient Chick Tract...

cover format was discontinued some 20 years ago.

Another tract that had been stretched to the limit was sent to us with 100 signatures, written in the margins of each page. The owner explained that he did not have money to buy 100 tracts, so he showed the tract to 100 people and when they finished reading it, he asked them to sign their name.

Soul winners tell us that Chick tracts are seldom thrown away, but if a few are, these two stories prove that the others make up for them by doing extra duty.

Another soul winner passed out a few hundred Chick tracts down the beach. Then he came back up checking the trash cans to see how many had been thrown away. He said he was puzzled, because there was almost none in the trash and the people had no pockets in the skimpy clothes they were wearing. Somehow they found a way to hang onto the tracts.

Many Christians feel that handing out tracts is not worth the effort. However, stories such as these prove otherwise.

Even though we may not see immediate results, the tract will do one of two things: either bring the reader closer to a commitment to Christ or stand as a witness against him at the Great White Throne judgment. If he pleads that did not know the way of salvation, Christ will only need to remind him of the day he read the tract and rejected the gospel.

Either way, we know that the tract did its job helping us fulfill the Great Commission.

Many Christians want to provide Chick tracts to missionaries.

We can help!

We maintain an account called the Chick Mission Fund.

Although we are not legally structured as a non-profit, and therefore cannot give tax-deductible receipts, we definitely know how to get literature into missionaries' hands. They often write to us asking if anyone can help them get Chick tracts.

100% of the funds you send to this account are used to ship literature to missionaries.

Just during recent months, shipments have been provided for:

China	Togo	Ukraine	Philippines	Israel	Russia
Pakistan	Chile	Paraguay	Germany	Netherlands
Zambia	France		India	Brazil	Italy
Trinidad and Tobago

We have more requests than we have funds. Will you help?

Yes, we're outnumbered...

but there is an answer.

Christ gave all Christians an agenda: to witness to "every creature." But He warned us — we would be grossly outnumbered.

Many churches now teach "relationship evangelism"... take time to be their friend, play golf with them, and someday you will earn the right to present the gospel.

But while you're reaching that one, should you ignore the other 100,000 people a day who are dropping into hell without even hearing the gospel?

Jack Chick says "No." Fifty years ago, he was burdened to share Christ with the masses. As a cartoonist, he knew that cartoons grabbed people's attention. He also knew that few could resist a good story. Soon, he combined the two and created Chick tracts.

Today, 775 million Chick tracts have been printed. And our files bulge with salvation testimonies as a result.

If you want to practice "relationship evangelism" with your neighbor, great. But don't ignore Christ's agenda to reach the masses. You may be outnumbered, but with Chick tracts you can greatly multiply the number of people you reach with the gospel... and greatly increase God's harvest.

Wrong Gospel...

“evangelizing” when their concept of “evangelization” is to help unbelievers learn ritual prayers to Mary and spend hours “adoring” a wheat cookie displayed on a pagan sunburst (monstrance)?

In his book, Babylon Religion: How a Babylonian Goddess became the Virgin Mary, author David W. Daniels shows, in graphic detail, how Catholicism’s Virgin Mary originates from a singular pagan goddess worshipped in many forms from antiquity.

Shortly after Noah’s flood, mankind again began to corrupt their worship. Satan was ever present to encourage idolatry and distract men with counterfeit gods. Central to every pagan religion is a female deity, a goddess.

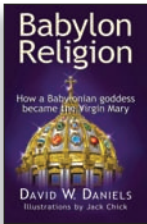

Daniels starts with Nimrod and Semiramis and shows how Satan has no new ideas, only new labels. The Babylonian Semiramis was relabeled Ishtar and became Lilith in Sumer, Ashtoreth and Astarte in Canaan, Isis in Egypt, Athena in Greece,

Diana in Ephesus and finally the Catholic Virgin Mary. (See page 167.)

Rick Jones, in his book, Understanding Roman Catholicism, devotes several chapters to comparing the Roman Catholic goddess to the real Mary of the Bible. He shows how the popes have injected her into the process of salvation. He quotes the 1994 Catechism: “Being obedient, she (Mary) became the cause of salvation for herself and for the whole human race.” (#494, pg. 125) Page 252, #969 states: “...her manifold intercession continues to bring us the gifts of eternal salvation...”

Jones goes on to show how the catechism teaches that Mary was born without sin, remained a virgin, receives prayers of intercession and is considered “Queen over all things.” Then he refutes each of these lies with scripture.

The pope points to Liguori as a model evangelist, yet he presented a false, unbiblical gospel. Rather than seeking fellowship with Roman Catholics, we need to gently show them how the word of God “reproves” the false hope that they have in their “church.”

and Afghanistan have proven that “nation building” alone doesn’t work. Handing them Israel’s head on a platter won’t work either. So where do we start?

First, we have to realize that the God of the Bible is the real Creator and Allah is just another one of Satan’s imposters. With that truth, our most powerful weapon is love, love that is strong enough to invite a Muslim neighbor to sit down and compare notes. As Mohammad Ghazoli describes in his book, Christ, Muhammad and I, when someone showed him the loving God of the Bible, he realized that here was the God he had been searching for all his life. He knew that he had not found it in Islam with its uncaring and capricious Allah. But the caring, predictable, unchanging nature of the biblical God, was totally different; One who he could commit his life to.

ing's failure, this is a good time to share the gospel with the Jehovah's Witnesses, showing them that their parent organization has made false prophecies as well. Challenge them to research the history of their organization —especially with respect to their own false prophecies.

They may even try to refute their own history by citing Proverbs 4:18 to prove that the light of their understanding is getting brighter and brighter. This is their fall-back, but this scripture draws out a fatal flaw in their reasoning. The Watchtower also teaches that the organization is the faithful and wise servant spoken of by Jesus in Matthew 24:45-47 that was chosen above all other religions to give spiritual food at the proper time.

The Watchtower teaches that Jesus inspected the church and found only the Watchtower Society to fulfill the requirements for Matthew 24:45-47. The question is this: How could Jesus find the Watchtower Society worthy to be the faithful and wise servant after the aforementioned failed prophecies? Still, today's Witnesses may maintain that was old light —but the problem is that it wasn't back then.

It was fresh and relevant for that time, but it also proved to be dead wrong.

Periodically, the Watchtower will make changes and claim that it is advancing in the light of truth —a clever tool of denying it is wrong. The JW who comes to your door has been deluded to believe in the perfection of the Watchtower Society. In my book, Winning the Witnesses, exposing the failed prophecies is but one of the ways I describe to shatter his confidence in the Watchtower.

My other book, The Watchtower's Coming Crisis, presents another strategy. Using the failed prophecies, the Watchtower leaders have created guidelines for leadership that are coming back to haunt them. Again, they are attempting to weasel out of them. But the sincere JW member will be haunted by doubts if you explain these contradictions to him, possibly opening him to the Truth.

I will forever be grateful to these publications. My life has changed and completely transformed because of this powerful tract ministry.

I remember I received the LORD reading a book called The Traitor And I followed the instructions how to embrace Jesus Christ.

I am a believer and I share Jesus with many. I wish I had these tracts in my city. G.S.R., India, Facebook Post

I started reading Chick tracts back in 1986. Since then I have become an active soul winner, graduated from Bible college and then became a professor at the Bible college. While there we began holding services in juvenile prisons in central FL. We passed out Chick tracts to the teenage inmates. They were so popular! In 2008 alone we had more than 4400 teens in services with over 1500 calling on the Lord Jesus to save them! I have since started a church. We have seen more than 100 saved in 2 years and Chick Tracts are a large part of our outreach! Praise the Lord for your concern for souls!

and Roman influences. “English was in a particularly fluid state. Both the works of Shakespeare and the King James Bible appeared around this formative time and stamped their imprint on the newer forms of the language,” says Alister McGrath, professor of theology, ministry and education at King’s College, London.

At the same time, several growing schools of Christian thought were competing for attention. King James wisely brought together a wide selection of men representing the various theological perspectives as well as world-class language competence.

With the guidance of the Holy Spirit, they produced a book that was so literal a translation of the faithful manuscripts that no one extreme interpretation dominated.

No other English Bible has benefited from the thoroughness of the translation process given the KJV. Fifty four men were selected from the foremost biblical scholars of the day.

Besides Hebrew and Greek, some were also fluent in a dozen other languages. They were then grouped in six committees in three locations at Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster Universities. Each group was assigned specific sections of the Bible to work on. When each group finished, their work was passed to the other groups to verify. Not until all groups had approved a section, was it considered final.

The work was started as early as 1604, but the process took until 1611 before a final text was ready to print. Even then, it was another 50 years before it was generally accepted as the people compared it to other bibles such as the Great Bible and the Geneva Bible that were in common use at that time.

As it came to dominate the culture, figures of speech, quotations and concepts began to show up in the works of famous writers, artists and composers. Jonathan Swift, author of “Gulliver’s Travels,” writing in 1712, believed the King James Bible, “being perpetually read in churches, proved a kind of standard for language, especially to the common people....I am persuaded that the translators of the Bible were masters of an English style much fitter for that work, than any we see in our present writings.” The lyrics of Handel’s “Messiah” are all quotes from the KJV.

One scholar has identified 257 phrases in modern use lifted directly from the KJV. Familiar ones include “east of Eden,” “beat their swords into plowshares,” “get thee behind me,” “the skin of my teeth,” “the root of the matter,” and “turned the world upside down.”

Even the U.S. Congress approved a resolution recognizing the 400th anniversary of the publication of the KJV, noting that it is the most widely printed and distributed work in history.

David W. Daniels, author of Did the Catholic Church Give Us the Bible? and Look What’s Missing, says, “God, through the KJV translators, gave us His “pure words” in English. For 400 years, it has empowered revivals, inspired millions to “faith and good works” and formed the spiritual basis of the most free and prosperous nations the world has ever known.

No wonder Satan has been so desperate to flood the market with dozens of counterfeit bibles to blunt the effect of the KJV.”

that Christian foster parents are no longer qualified to raise foster children unless they agree to teach them that homosexuality is an acceptable life style.

Other developments in the sodomite war against God include a university professor who is charged for felony incest with his 24-year-old daughter. He claims it was a consenting relationship and legal under a finding of the U.S. Supreme Court stating that the government has no interest in what consenting adults do in private.

In a Canadian parliament hearing on sexual offences against children, one psychology expert testified that pedophilia appeared to be an "orientation" like homosexuality. With this logic, age-of-consent laws would need to be eliminated so that pedophiles could also act out their sexual desires. In fact, some countries have actually lowered the age of consent to as far as 14.

Many Bible-believing military chaplains expect to be forced out when the U.S. president's decision to open the military to practicing homosexuals is implemented.

Also in Canada, polygamists are demanding that their style of marriage be legally recognized if same-sex unions are to be accepted. There is also a move to make prostitution legal since it is usually done by two "consenting" adults in private. And so goes the logic. Even though homosexuals are only about three percent of the population, they have succeeded in grasping government and media levers of power and pose a serious threat to Bible believers. They have gone a long way in tamping down any opposition and are determined to make everyone approve of their sin.

A recent Chick tract, Uninvited, shows God's view of homosexuality and how demons infest those who choose to practice this abomination. It also shows how molested children often grow up confused about their sexuality. Another tract, Sin City, relates the biblical story of God's judgment on Sodom and Gomorrah for their perversion.

Hot Topics is a 128-page paperback also published by Chick Publications. It contains two chapters dealing with homosexual seduction and child molestation. Unless Bible believers wake up and begin countering this juggernaut with biblical truth, our precious religious freedom is doomed. Sodomites will accept nothing short of our silence.

Most people know that something is wrong here, but do not understand what. If we saturate our communities with no-nonsense Bible tracts with God's viewpoint, some may be encouraged to stand against it. Hot Topics can also be used to educate those who are confused about it.

Chances are good that if you can show a Muslim your personal relationship with the biblical Creator and how the Holy Spirit guides you to truth, he will allow you to guide him out of his pagan darkness. Granted, we must also enforce the laws that protect our freedom, but that alone will not stop this new kind of invasion.

A spiritual response must be the spearhead of our defense. And, Bible believers, we are it. No one else can do it.

Chick Publications provides literature to both equip the soul winner and reach the Muslim. Books like Who is this Allah? and Anatomy of the Qur'an, detail the unbiblical teachings of Islam. The tracts, Is Allah Like You? and Allah Had No Son, also teach contrasts between the Bible and Islam, but are designed to give the Muslim something to think about when he is presented with the possibility that the Bible teaches a better path.

A MESSAGE FROM JACK CHICK...

Dear ones in Christ,

In the 1800s there was a mining community that had descended to the lowest depths humanly possible. The men all had lewd, rotten contempt for the women. Most were drunks. Everyone was blaspheming God's name and they were all without hope, angry and lost in total darkness.

Beloved, that same darkness is back and starting to cover America and is moving into our churches. Listen to teenagers talk about girls. The b-word is used constantly. Comedy on TV has become a sewer. Rap music words are an abomination. Honor, respect and honesty are scorned. Jesus is outlawed in our schools, but not Allah. Pastors are reluctant to blast sin. Hell fire and damnation is avoided so as not to offend the congregation. This opens the floodgates for darkness to expand.

Notice the worlds of Daniel Webster: "If religious literature is not widely circulated among the masses in this country, I do not know what is going to become of us as a nation. If truth is not diffused (poured out in every direction), error will be; if God and his word are not known and received, the devil and his works will gain the ascendancy (to control); if the evangelical volume does not reach every hamlet (small village or town), the pages of a corrupt and licentious (absence of moral or legal restraint) will. If the power of the Gospel is not felt throughout the length and breadth of the land, anarchy (chaos) and misrule, degradation and misery, corruption and darkness will reign without mitigation (softening) or end." (Written in 1823.)

Years ago, a couple of soul winners saturated a juvenile hall with our tracts. The warden was stunned. That night, as a result, there were no fights, rapes or stabbings. As they were exposed to the gospel, there was peace and calm. There have been similar results in other jails and prisons.

Recently, a very dangerous area in Mexico was flooded with food packages containing 5 different tracts in Spanish. A wide variety of titles were used in different packages so they would be shared. Later, church leaders found a noticeable change in the atmosphere of the area. One youngster claimed that he had read 15 different tracts. In a prison, in the area housing 800 prisoners, about 225 inmates accepted Christ after a similar gospel saturation with tracts.

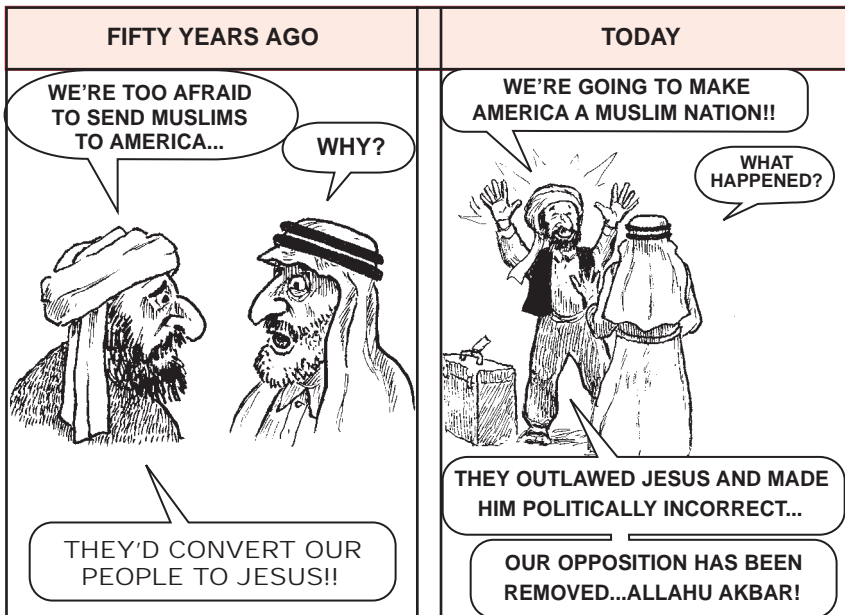

Beloved, God has raised up Chick Publications in these last days. People are afraid. We've all got to do our part. Every time you leave a tract somewhere or pass a tract to some lost soul, you bring light into the darkness. Don't leave home without them.

May God protect you, bless you, and give you boldness.

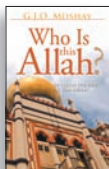

I love you all,

Your brother in Christ,
