

Pope in Australia Pushes Unity of All Religions

2007 “ecumenical” meeting of Pope Benedict with leading Jewish, Buddhist, Muslim, Anglican, Orthodox and other “Christian Representatives.”

Homosexual Marriage? —What’s the Big Deal?

Is same-sex marriage simply allowing another kind of couple to have the same benefits enjoyed by opposite-sex couples? Unfortunately, it’s not that simple. In God’s social system, obedience creates benefits; sin causes problems.

First of all, hetero-couples don’t need any help having children. Homo-couples need opposite sex donors. And if a doctor declines to help because of his faith he might be sued for “discrimination.”

Or, if the homo-couple decides to adopt, woe to any adoption agency that refuses to accommodate them. In Massachusetts, where same-sex marriages are legal, an adoption agency was told by the state

During the pope’s visit to Australia, more evidence surfaced that the Vatican has not really changed its pagan system, only its tactics in coaxing the world into its web. Pope Benedict XVI was there officiating at a World Youth Day that attracted hundreds of thousands of “pilgrims.”

He also met with leaders of other religions: Muslim, Hindu, Jewish and Buddhist. He told them: “I think you would agree that the ecumenical movement has reached a critical juncture,” the pope said.

“We must guard against any temptation to view doctrine as divisive and hence an impediment to the seemingly more pressing and immediate task of improving the world in which we live.”

This pope is continuing the strategy that ex-Jesuit Priest, Alberto Rivera

New Louisiana Law Allows 'Open Discussion' on Creation

Evolutionists are up in arms over a bill signed into law by Louisiana Governor, Bobby Jindal. Called the Louisiana Science Education Bill, it passed the state legislature unanimously and creates a level playing field in the discussion of the origin of life and other controversial subjects in the state school system. The New York Times screamed: "retrograde!" and "trojan horse," even though the bill simply calls for a school environment allowing "open discussion" and "critical thinking" on "controversial scientific subjects."

The bill does not mention intelligent design or creationism and "clearly restricts any intent to promote a religious doctrine," according to Townhall.com. It is written broadly enough to include other subjects beside evolution, such as cloning, global warming and other debatable topics. Local schools are now free to introduce reading material presenting views other than the politically correct version of the day.

Prior to Jindal's signing the law, the Times tried ridicule, insults, and untruths to pressure the governor. It even belittled his education: "As a biology major at Brown University, Mr. Jindal must know that evolution is the unchallenged central organizing principle of modern biology." On the contrary, this background probably went a long way in helping him understand how little evidence supports the evolutionary theory.

Not longer is evolution an "unchallenged" principle. The Creation Research Society is just one organization with over 600 members with at least a master's degree in a recognized area of science. As early as 1979, Science Digest reported: "Scientists who utterly reject evolution may be one of our fastest-growing controversial minorities... Many of the scientists supporting this position hold impressive credentials in science." Even the Korean Association of Creation Research has 150 Ph.D. scientist members and 300 other scientists with master's degrees.

Discovery Institute in Seattle, Washington, has been one of the most successful organizations promoting intelligent design theory in opposition to evolution's random mutation idea. It is only one example of many organizations pressing for open discussion on evolution's weaknesses. A Google search for "intelligent design" delivers over six million hits.

To show the obvious spiritual aspect of this whole business, Townhall.com quotes Dr. William Provine of Cornell University explaining his and Darwin's shared atheistic beliefs: "Let me summarize my views on what modern evolutionary biology tells us loud and clear — and these are basically Darwin's views. There are no gods, no purposes, and no goal-directed forces of any kind. There is no life after death. When I die, I am absolutely certain that I am going to be dead. That's the end of me. There is no ultimate foundation for ethics, no ultimate meaning in life, and no free will for humans, either." There can be no clearer description of the anti-Christ nature of evolution.

"The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God." (Ps. 53:1)

Paul said in 2 Thessalonians 2 that "...for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: That they all might be damned who believed not the truth." Can there be any question that evolution is one "strong delusion?" The "natural man" would rather believe this lie than admit there is a God he would have to obey.

Which Words are Jesus' Words?

By David W. Daniels

One sentence Jesus spoke was so important that God had it written in scripture three times: “Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.”(Matthew 24:35; Mark 13:31 and Luke 21:33)

So Jesus' words will never pass away. But which words are Jesus' words? This is an important question, because God the Son promised those words will never pass away.

Hint: they are not just the “red letters!” In the Old Testament, whenever the “LORD” appeared to Adam, Abraham, Moses, Noah, and the prophets, it was Jesus. And Jesus is God the Son, who inspired all the writers of the Bible (2 Timothy 3:15-17).

So which words are Jesus' words? Every single word of the Bible! The Bible is God's words to us.

Which Bible is that? We must look for a Bible that has never changed, that gives all glory and honor to God, protected to the death by the persecuted Christians. That is the Bible that God preserved. In English we have it as the King James Bible. And God the Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, says His words will never pass away. You have Jesus' word on it.

I just received in the mail your new tract Who Is He? and I have to say that I have a whole basket of every tract you have ever made.

I have passed them out for years and as a teenager I got these tracts and they helped lead me to the Lord. I must say that this one tops the cake. I have handed them out, I have ordered from you but this one just focuses on the all-important message of Jesus Christ and the salvation through Him.

I know God leads you to do these things, but I must tell you that this one is, to me, tops. I love it! I just wanted to let you know.

...for three years after I was saved (October 10, 1999) my kids would literally saturate my Mom's home with your tracts. She would find them tucked in cabinets, between towels, in magazines, under placemats, in her glove box and anywhere else the girls could find to hide them.

For the first year she would find and gather them but she wouldn't read them. Finally she, being a Catholic for 50+ years, began to read them. She read them cover to cover but was blind to the fact that even though she believed exactly who Jesus Christ is, she didn't see the need to receive Him as her personal Saviour.

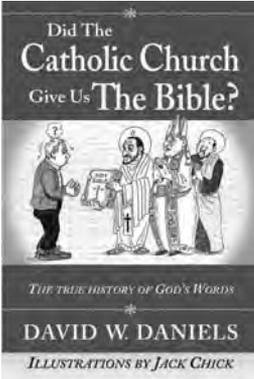

At last, on January 24, 2003, while reading a few of your tracts earlier in the day along with Dr. Ruckman's Tell It Like It Is tract, she realized she was lost and Hell bound and she did something about it. Today she passes out those same tracts that made a difference in her life. My family and I pass out your tracts almost exclusively and I have seen the Lord open up conversations about Heaven and Hell which lead directly to their salvation!

Look What's Missing —Even in Revelation

By David W. Daniels

Revelation 22:18-19 *For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book: And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

Some people say that because this curse is at the end of the Bible, it refers to adding to or taking away from any word of the entire Bible. Other people say, “That’s crazy! It only refers to changing words in the book of Revelation itself.”

Does it even matter? Historically, Revelation is one of the most changed books of the Bible! And friends, if people are willing to change a book with such a clear curse on those who pervert it, they are willing to change anything.

Consider the following sample:

KJV	NIV, etc.	What is at stake
Revelation 1:8: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending , saith the Lord,	Revelation 1:8: “I am the Alpha and the Omega,” _____ says the Lord God,	Clarity that Jesus is eternal, not created.
Revelation 1:11: Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, ...	Revelation 1:11: which said: _____ “”	Clarity that Jesus is eternal, not created.
Revelation 5:14: And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever .	Revelation 5:14: ...and the elders fell down and worshiped_____.	Clarity of the Lord being eternal, not created.
Revelation 14:5: And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God .	Revelation 14:5: No lie was found in their mouths; they are blameless_____.	They weren’t faultless or perfect – but their hearts were right ... before man? No, before God.
Revelation 20:12: And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God ; and the books were opened:	Revelation 20:12: And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened	Clarity that all the dead shall stand before God..
Revelation 22:14: Blessed are they that do his commandments ,	Revelation 22:14: “Blessed are those who wash their robes,	Blessed for obedience or clean clothes??
Revelation 22:19: And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life , and out of the holy city,	Revelation 22:19: And if anyone takes words away from this book of prophecy, God will take away from him his share in the tree of life and in the holy city,	It is no coincidence that the most changed book of the Bible would remove eternal damnation from the very curse for changing God’s words!

Conclusion: Would you rather your friends read a Bible that God has clearly blessed, or one He has clearly cursed? Brothers and sisters, let us be earnest in showing others the truth about the King James Bible, God’s preserved words in English.

Australian Church Greets Pope's Pilgrims With True Gospel

Pastor Kevin Harris of Illawarra Independent Baptist Church in Wollongong, Australia could not pass up the opportunity when the pope came to Sydney. Half a million pilgrims were expected at the Catholic Youth Day rally. Arming a team from his congregation with 35,000 Last Rites tracts, they positioned themselves in the middle of the stream of people entering the pope's meetings.

The organizers of the meetings had anticipated distribution of literature exposing the unbiblical traditions of Catholicism. They went as far as to persuade the New South Wales Parliament to pass a law making it illegal to "annoy" a World Youth Day participant. The law was immediately challenged in the NSW Supreme Court and overturned before the meetings began.

Some attendees had also been instructed not to receive any handouts, so Harris found about one in ten refused the tracts or received them and tore them up. Some were simply thrown on the ground which the team retrieved and "recycled." Yet, Harris's team was encouraged that some did stop to talk and receive more information. Even with this resistance, the team succeeded in distributing 5600 tracts in just four hours one of the days. The church's phone number and web site were printed on the back of the tracts and they received several phone calls requesting more information.

"It was good to speak with a few Catholics about the gospel," says Pastor Harris. "Of course, our goal is to plant the seed, perhaps be God's instrument to water seed previously sown, and raise doubts about their Catholic faith. In time to come they may ripen and be ready to be harvested."

Pastor Harris's opportunity is not different than those in every community. Any event that draws a crowd is a good place to get the gospel message to a lot of people in a short time. Ball games, parades, flea markets, music festivals, car rallies, fireworks shows, etc, are all opportunities to be a Matthew 13 sower. Some "seed" will fall by the wayside or on stony ground, but others will bring forth much fruit.

Our job is to plant the seed. Others may water it, but God will give the increase by working in hearts by His Spirit (1 Corinthians 3:6).

Pastor Harris planting seed.

Would you refuse a tract from this little lady?

This Jesus Was Different

The following is a testimony sent to the author of Who is this Allah by a young man in Nigeria:

After my semester, I decided to visit a friend. Just as I was seated, I saw him coming towards me with a book in his hands. After the usual greetings, I saw the book was titled Who is this Allah? I started reading it immediately.

I realized I could not dispute the points the author was making since they were firmly established in the Quran. I had read all the Quranic passages he was quoting, but until then I never realized their implications.

I began to have a new understanding of the mission and ministry of Jesus Christ on earth. The Jesus (Isa) I knew in the Quran was a different person than the Jesus Christ I was reading about in this book. Here I could see His unique nature —a man of deep compassion and love... My heart began to open to know more about this Jesus.

I then realized this might be the answer to the cry of my heart I recite everyday in my daily prayers, ‘Show us the true path...’ (Quran Chapter 1.6). After reading the book, I concluded in my heart that I was deceived and misled by the devil in believing a lie.

I now faced the reality I had never imagined in life: Do I throw away the religion of my fathers and become a Christian? But my mind was already set. I chose to believe in the Jesus of the Bible and to receive him as my Lord and Savior. Suddenly, I burst into tears asking God to forgive all my sins and receive me as His child. Something then happened I will never forget. As I was crying, I suddenly felt a strange cold sensation moving over my body. My heart got twisted but I did not feel any pain and was suddenly filled with joy which no human language can explain. My entire being was flooded with the peace that was beyond the one I was looking for. I felt like a new born baby that had no problem in life.

By the following morning, my friend brought me some water to perform my ablution (ritual washing of hands, feet, face, nostrils, etc before prayer) and to say my salah prayers. I said to my friend, “I don’t need these things; I am now a Christian.” My friend (his name is Mohammed) exclaimed, ‘What!’ I said, “I don’t know how to start telling you this, Mohammed, but please, read this book. Perhaps you may discover what I discovered.”

I left my friend perplexed and went to meet some Christians outside my friend’s house to teach me how to pray. They explained that prayer is communicating with God, just like a child communicates with his father. They also advised me to get a copy of the Bible and read what Jesus taught on prayers. I returned to my friend’s room and found a copy of the New Testament. I read it through within a few days. The message was so comforting to my soul. I had never read a book like it. I felt as if I was living in a different world. My understanding of God, the world and the people around me changed drastically. I began to see things in a new light.”

described several years ago. He tells how the Vatican failed to stop the Reformation by direct persecution. They were not able to halt the spread of the gospel by burning the Bible believers at the stake during the Inquisition.

The popes then attempted to regain political power in Europe by supporting Hitler and Mussolini. When that failed, they decided on a more subtle approach: ecumenism. Rivera, in the six Alberto Series of the Crusaders Comics, explains how the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council in the 1960s was a turning point in Vatican strategy.

That is what Pope Benedict is spotlighting. "Divisive doctrine" must be set aside for the good of the "world in which we live." But whose "doctrine" or rules for living shall we use for the "good of the world?" Will it be the pope's worship of a Virgin Mary goddess and wafer Jesus? Or will it be the seventh century Arabian moon god, Allah? Or shall we live so our karma will allow us to be a superior creature in our next cycle of reincarnation?

Jesus said He did not come to bring peace, but a sword (Matt 10:34). He did not set aside "doctrine" to avoid being "divisive." The Apostle Paul cautioned us against having fellowship with devils (1 Corinthians 10:20). When Bible believers stand for scriptural truth like Jesus did, false religions will gnash their teeth, not join an ecumenical love-fest.

In the Alberto Series, Rivera peels back Roman Catholicism's smiling mask to reveal the fangs and horns of this satanic-inspired prostitute church. He describes how the Vatican shifted from the brutal Inquisition strategy to a let's-all-get-together-and-love-one-another approach. Now, 20 years after Rivera's warning, we see its success. No longer are Protestants "protesting" the unbiblical evils of this goddess-worshipping, wafer-god-based false church. Even "evangelicals" have bought the idea that Catholicism is "just another denomination with a little different tradition and worship style."

The devil is a hijacker. He captures biblical truth and distorts it into a lie. Rome has hijacked the biblical virgin Mary and turned her into the Virgin Mary goddess. They hijacked the communion bread and made it a wafer god. In their strategy of "ecumenism," they hijacked Christ's prayer "that they may be one." (John 17:11) Jesus was praying that his disciples would be in unity. He specifically distinguished them from the "world" that they were to "bear witness to," not unify with.

Soul winners, one billion precious Roman Catholics and hundreds of thousands of "Protestants" are falling into this "ecumenical" snare. We need to expose this anti-Christ (false Christ). Get the Alberto Series Crusaders Comics into as many hands as possible. Also helpful are the eye-opening gospel tracts: Why is Mary Crying?, Last Rites, The Death Cookie and Are Roman Catholics Christians?

this delusion with the truth of God's word. Confused unbelievers need the message in the tracts, Big Daddy, There Go the Dinosaurs, and the newest one, Moving on Up. These are backed up by paperback books: The Vanishing Proofs of Evolution, How Life Began, The Evolution Handbook and minibook, In the Beginning—Soup?

Our kids are being force-fed this lie in the government schools. We need to get the truth into their hands. Their whole world view in life depends on whether they believe in evolution or not.

Homosexual Marriage...

that they must place children with homo-couples who were "married." After a lengthy battle, they decided they would quit the adoption business altogether. Now, legitimate hetero-couples in Massachusetts no longer can get adoption help from this agency.

Two years ago, the Vatican banned Catholic agencies from placing children with homo-couples. San Francisco city council responded with a resolution condemning the church's teaching as "hateful and discriminatory" showing "insensitivity and ignorance." Catholic leaders countered with a suit that the resolution violated the Constitution's prohibition of government hostility toward religion. That case is currently before the 9th Circuit court.

In the business world, a Christian photographer in New Mexico was fined for refusing to photograph a lesbian "commitment ceremony." In Texas, a gardener was sued by a homosexual for refusing to do business with him. A printer in Canada was fined for refusing to print a job for a homosexual organization.

Ministries are also under attack. In Canada, Christian Horizons, a ministry to the developmentally disabled, was fined $23,000 for firing a female employee who was having an affair with another woman. Publishers Zondervan and Thomas Nelson are currently being sued by a homosexual. He claims that the bibles that they sell, which call homosexuality a sin, have caused him "emotional pain and mental instability."

Pastor Harry Jackson, of Hope Christian Church in College Park, Maryland sees a move by homosexuals to pressure all Christian churches to "change the foundational beliefs," and ordain openly gay ministers. Presbyterians, Lutherans, and Anglicans have already given in and ordained homosexuals causing a major rift in their denominations.

Their next goal is evangelicals. "Be prepared for things to get rough," says Jackson. His church, along with T.D. Jakes' Potter's House, Joel Osteen's Lakewood Church, Willow Creek, and Saddleback, have all been visited by radical homosexual activists SoulForce and Equality Riders. So far the dialog and visits have been civil but these groups have demonstrated a willingness to even be arrested for disruptive behavior.

"Be prepared for things to get rough,"

As you can see, legalizing same-sex marriage has far greater implications than just joining two people in "holy matrimony." The bottom line here is the fact that these people want to make it illegal to say that their behavior is sinful.

They are very skillful in using the media and the law to advance their agenda. Jackson says that education and religion are their next battlegrounds. California and other states already have laws forcing favorable teaching of "alternate lifestyles." An elementary school in Pennsylvania has been forced to explain to their third graders why a fellow boy student now comes in girl's clothing and is called by a girl's name.

Unfortunately, even some "Bible believers" disagree with God that this "alternate lifestyle" is an abomination. But we have to believe that there are enough "decent people" left who will rise up in indignation if they only knew the truth: homo-marriage makes big problems for society.

Therefore, we need to widely broadcast the truth about the sordid consequences of sodomite behavior. Chick Publications has two tracts, Doom Town and Sin City, that clearly show God's view of sodomy. If enough of these tracts get out, maybe the homosexual agenda can be blunted. Unless it is stopped, we could soon face jail time for simply stating God's opinion.

Few Believe that Jesus is the Only Way

A study released recently by the Pew Forum illustrates how big our job is as soul winners. First it showed that 57 percent of “evangelical” church members believe that many religions can lead to heaven. To show how widely this view is held, 83 percent of mainline Protestants, 79 percent of Roman Catholics, 82 percent of Jews and 56 percent of Muslims agreed.

This led socialist D. Michael Lindsay to observe that religion in America is “3000 miles wide and only 3 inches deep. While Jewish views may vary, Protestant, Roman Catholic and Muslim teachings all contradict this view.

Despite efforts by the media and university professors to drive belief in God out of the culture, 92 percent of the 35,000 adults in the survey still claimed to believe in some kind of God. Even 21 percent of those who self-identified as atheists claimed belief in God or a universal spirit.

This proves the famous saying that there is a God-shaped vacuum in every man’s heart that only God can fill. Soul winners can rely on that fact when witnessing, whether in person or passing a tract.

We must keep firmly in mind Christ’s statement in John 14:6: “I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.” When 57 percent of evangelicals and 83 percent of Protestants deny this scripture, we know ignorance of the Bible is rampant.

This also tells us why the average “Christian” never witnesses. Few have the conviction that the only way unbelievers can escape hell is by making Jesus their Saviour.

We know that not everyone will respond to the gospel, but we need to give everyone we meet a chance to make that choice. It is impossible to hold a lengthy discussion about their eternal destiny with everyone we meet. But it only takes a few seconds to give someone a tract. Thousands of people over the years have written to Chick Publications about how a tract changed their lives. Sometimes they got the tract from a friend, or a stranger, or found it in the bathroom or break room at work, or even in the dirt in the wilderness. But in every case, a Bible believer cared enough to pass out the tract or plant it where someone could find it.

Surveys such as the above demonstrate how important it is to get a truly biblical message out to as many as possible while there is time.

I am an inmate serving a 35 year sentence. At the time I went to jail I was a very ignorant, selfish and rebellious person. I got to read tracts, and it was one of the greatest things I have ever done. The pictures and characters really gave me the insight of what I was really reading. I know it helped me 100% in getting started reading the Bible. I love reading the Bible now. Thank God! I always try to read the Bible by trying to use my imagination in trying to focus a picture of what is really going on. I just finished reading Angel of Light and I am going to pass it on to other inmates. Some of them can’t read but the pictures really get their curiosity going.

Anglicans May Split Over God's View of Sodomy

Every ten years, the largest "Protestant Denomination" meets to discuss the issues in their "communion." This year, it is time for the 77-million-member Anglican Church to meet again. Anglican is the official state church of Great Britain. The American branch is called Episcopalians.

There are also branches in Africa and other parts of the world. It is not a tight hierarchy like Roman Catholicism, but a loosely linked group of bishops and archbishops headed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Rowan Williams.

Their once-every-ten-years meeting is called the Lambeth conference after the city where they meet in the University of Kent. Ten years ago, discussions were dominated by sex; specifically homosexuality and ordination of women. This year, one-fourth of the invited delegates representing almost half of the world-wide Anglican members chose to not attend, in objection to the ordination of an openly practicing sodomite bishop by the Episcopal branch in the U.S.

The battle has been raging even before 2003 when V. Gene Robinson, was ordained in New Hampshire. The media reports that it is a possible pending schism (split) in the church between "progressives," who choose to find nothing wrong with sodomy in their bibles, and "conservatives" who claim that God placed clear objections into Scripture.

Satan is gleeful that he can create such confusion among those who "name the name of Christ," seriously damaging our witness to the world. Unfortunately, Satan got some help from the translators of the modern Bible versions.

Modern sodomites like to point to 1 Kings 14:24 and 15:12 where "sodomites" (KJV) is translated "male shrine prostitutes" (NIV, Holman) "perverted persons" (NKJV) "male cult prostitutes" (Holman), and "shrine prostitutes" (NLT). They say: "See! We are not shrine prostitutes. This is not talking about us."

Or they will go to 1 Corinthians 6:9. The KJV targets the "effeminate," or "abusers of themselves with mankind." But the NIV comes up with "male prostitutes" again, and "homosexual offenders." "That's not us! We are homosexual but not "offenders," they say.

This pick-and-choose approach is simply dishonest. If they really wanted to know God's opinion, they would also look at Leviticus 18:22; 20:13, Romans 1:26-27, Rev. 21:8, where even the modern translations are brilliantly clear. However, if all were reading the same Bible, there would be much less room for excuses.

So, what's the main issue? It really comes down to the question: "Did God keep His promise?" In several places in scripture, God specifically promises to preserve His words. (See Psalms 12:6-7, Matthew 24:35, Mark 13:31, and Luke 21:33.) In fact, He pronounces dire curses on anyone who adds to or takes away from His words. (See Deuteronomy 4:2, 12:32, Proverbs 30:5-6 and Revelation 22:18-19.)

How then, is it possible for 70 million people to waste so much time quibbling over God's opinion about this subject? He made it very clear to those who "have ears to hear." To those who will not hear, He promises to give them over to a "reprobate mind" and goes on to define the evils of such a mind that lead to death. (See Romans 1:28-32.)

We cheer the 35 million Anglicans who have drawn a line against this perversion of both sex and the scripture. We can only pray that they will also come to understand that the KJV is God's preserved words in English and eliminate such confusion.

For more information on the KJV, see Did the Catholic Church Give us the Bible? and Answers to your Bible Version Questions, both by David W. Daniels.

A Message from Jack Chick

Dear Ones in Christ:

Halloween is almost here, and big and little “monsters” are preparing to hit your front doors yelling, “Trick or treat!” Candy is their target. But we can give them a far greater ‘treat’ with wonderful gospel tracts, for monsters of all sizes.

The Lord has given us a special treat for 2008. It’s called First Bite. Many are saying it’s one of our best: packed with humor, but with a clear message of salvation for readers, young and old.

Satan revels in Halloween’s glorifying of his world of goblins, witches and ghosts. But we can sabotage his biggest night! Real witches and devils really get upset when a gospel tract lights up somebody’s candy bag. Not only do the kids read them, but also their parents. Chick Publications has received testimonies of whole families coming to Christ because of one gospel tract in a trick-or-treat bag!

I believe First Bite will become a classic. However, Chick Publications has several other tracts that have been used on previous Halloweens. For a complete list, see the enclosed brochure, the 2008 catalog or visit our web site at www.chick.com.

God bless you as you reach the kids (and families) in your neighborhood.

Your brother in Christ,

Tract Passing Tips

On Halloween 2007, we decided once again to put candy with a tract into kid’s bags. As the different groups of kid’s came and went we would answer the door in random alternating order.

And it just so happens when my son’s schoolmate Dylan came, my son Nathaniel answered the door. Even though Dylan and Nathaniel actually know each other, they only knew each other by sight. Dylan went home and showed the tract to his Dad.

The next week or so, the Lord made a divine appointment. These two boys are not in the same class. They only pass by each other occasionally in the hall or at lunch.

One day Nathaniel asked his teacher if he could use the bathroom. It just so happened that Dylan was in the bathroom at the same time. And no one else was there. Dylan greeted Nathaniel and told him he got saved! Later he said his Dad is taking him to church! He calls his sheep by name and they know his voice.

Someone left a Chick tract on a restaurant table, which I read and a friend also gave a Chick tract to me. With that combination I turned from being a Hindu to a Christian. That was 10 years ago. I am now a pastor.
