

Pope Apologizes —But Nothing Changes

Pope Francis spent a week of his summer in Canada on what he called a “penitential pilgrimage.” He came to offer an apology for “evil committed by so many Christians” in Canada’s residential schools. The schools were a product of the effort by the government and religious leaders to convert the indigenous people to western culture.

Very young children of the native tribes were forced into these institutions largely supervised by Roman Catholic nuns and priests. Funding came primarily from government programs. Of course the first “evil” was ripping these children out of their families, presumably to save them from the “heathen” nature of the tribal worship.

Pope greets Native American with a “holy kiss” during “apology” tour of Canada.

Marching Toward the Beast

Pharmaceutical giant, Pfizer, has a new concept to make you take your medicine. CEO Albert Bourla describes a new pill to the elites attending the 2018 World Economic Forum in Davos Switzerland.

“It is basically a biological chip that is in the tablet. And once you take the tablet and it dissolves into your stomach, it sends a signal that you took the tablet,” he said. “So, imagine the applications of that, the compliance,” he continued.

Yes indeed!

We have seen how the current pandemic, COVID-19, has been used to force government-mandated compliance. In America, we have been privileged to retain a good bit of our personal freedom. Christians in many other countries have not fared as well. China, for example, has used modern technology quite successfully.

We are told that the city of Beijing is completely covered with surveillance cameras equipped with facial recognition. The communist government also maintains a daily record of people's behavior and awards them "social credits" for good behavior. Of course, "bad" behavior (by communist standards) takes away some of those credits. And if they lose too many, they are not allowed into the best universities or even air travel.

We are also quite familiar with the brutal compliance executed by most of the Muslim-dominated countries.

When Jesus walked the earth He warned His disciples about some of the strategies that Satan would come up with in the last days. Then He backed that up with greater details in the Revelation to John on the Isle of Patmos. The mark mentioned on the hand or forehead was functional from their primitive perspective. Today, technology has been captured by Satan to design a far more sophisticated surveillance system.

Of course, the technology was necessary to fulfill the scripture that the gospel would be preached to all nations at the end time (Matt. 24:14). But technology is neutral. It can be effectively used for both good and evil. And we are living in a time where we are watching it used increasingly for evil.

The first part of that scripture has been largely fulfilled. There is not a major people group on the planet that doesn't now have the Bible in their language. So it appears that we are entering the second half of that scripture: "then shall the end come."

Many years ago Jack Chick foresaw some of the details of the end time. It was early in the 1960s when the tract The Beast was published. But over the years its portrayal of end time events has been largely vindicated.

Today, there's a huge cloud of fear hanging over the planet. Bible believers alone have the answer. Desperate times call for desperate action. We need to take tracts like The Beast and saturate our neighborhoods and communities. People need to know that there is only one hope, Jesus.

Additional details regarding end-time events, particularly the role of Catholicism, can also be found in some of the Chick Crusader Comics and paperbacks.

New Homosexual Disorder

During the COVID-19 epidemic, hospitals were seriously stretched. Now we have the threat of the monkeypox but the overload is on a different kind of health facility, sexual health clinics. For those who are not aware of this branch of health care, they specialize in "confidential walk-in diagnosis and treatment."

They provide a medical cover for patients who contract a disease transmitted primarily by "close contact." Monkeypox, like HIV, is turning out to be spread primarily by men who have sex with men. A recent article by Reuters.com claims that financial resources are thin for these clinics and officials are recommending an increase in public funding.

Those old enough to remember, can recall a New York Times headline of May 11, 1982: NEW HOMOSEXUAL DISORDER WORRIES HEALTH OFFICIALS. The original label for the new pestilence was "gay-related immunodeficiency" or GRID. "[Most] cases have occurred among homosexual men, in particular those who have had numerous sexual partners, often anonymous partners," The Times reported.

Even in those days, the homosexual lobby was strong enough to get the label changed to "acquired immunodeficiency

But since Catholicism is Christian in name only, the environment in the schools further contributed to the “evil.”

To put a human face into the middle of this atrocity, Reuters reporter Brad Brooks traveled to an American version of one of these residential schools that was operated by Roman Catholic leadership in South Dakota until 1975. His primary contact was Geraldine Charbonneau Dubourt who had been one of nine girls taken from their parents in 1955. She tells her graphic tale of psychological, physical and even sexual abuse.

Inappropriate touching began almost immediately by both nuns and priests. She remembers multiple rapes, by a priest in the basement of the school, that eventually led to an abortion. All the while there were rigid rules and rituals with little caring and emotional support.

For her, an apology, even by the Pope, is not enough. In her later years she has spearheaded an attempt by many other members of her tribe, who were similarly treated, for justice. Unfortunately, by the time she was able to get some momentum going, she had outlived most of the perpetrators. She also claims that legal statutes of limitations were changed to protect those Catholic institutions in charge of the schools.

Unfortunately, this scenario of governments’ involvement in social and religious experimentation was widespread during the “settlement of the west.” But it seems like the pope’s troupers were always there and ready to expand the spiritual bondage of the native peoples.

This sad story is only one more chapter illustrating what happens when a counterfeit church gains government power to replace the gospel with pagan rituals.

However, there is some evidence that true Bible believers were concerned enough to take the gospel to these people where they lived, without transplanting them to unfamiliar surroundings and breaking up the families. Men like John Eliot, David Brainerd, and William Carey went and lived with the natives and translated the Bible into their languages. They established churches and encouraged education and leadership in commercial enterprises.

The Pope, however, in his recent visit to Canada, failed to accept responsibility for the evils of the residential schools. He chose rather to blame-shift it from the evils of the system to bad people within the system.

Well...evidence! That’s the true scientific way. Got an idea? Gather the evidence. Reach a conclusion. Simple enough? Well, not really.

Some people with an agenda ignore the evidence and try to sell you the conclusion first. You know, a con artist trying to sell you the Brooklyn Bridge without showing you the pink slip. It’s always best to not pay your money until you see the evidence.

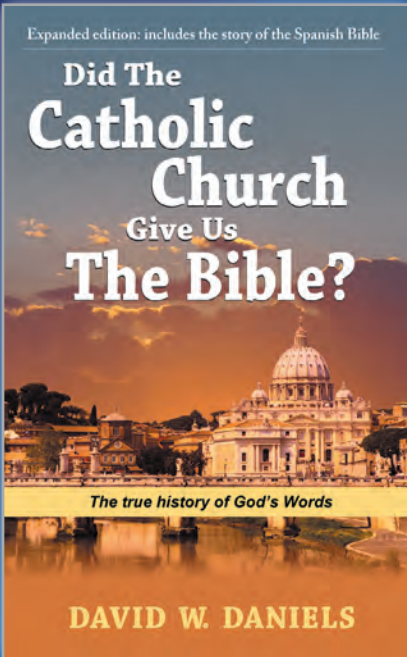

When I began to buy copies of the modern Bibles, I wondered why some of them were different from others. I was told not to worry about it. Just a little variation here and there. No big deal.

But this was important stuff. My eternal destiny was involved.

When I began to ask for evidence, I kind of got the runaround. I could find a little bit here and a little bit there but

Sidewalk Rights By Chick Customer Dennis D.

For 50 years the Chicago Public School administrators have been deceiving Christians who go to the public sidewalks in front of public schools. You are often told that you cannot be on the public sidewalk next to the public school property. Often, administrators will tell you that that public sidewalk next to the street is school property.

That is a bold lie.

The public sidewalk is a public sidewalk with First Amendment rights attached. On May 23, I went to Proviso East to distribute Chick tracts. The administrator told me to cross the street. I told him the students are not across the street. They are on this side of the street.

He summoned the school cop who told me I have to cross the street. I told him I have First Amendment rights on both sides of the street. He called in a Cook County deputy who drove up on the sidewalk, stopped and told me to cross the street. I told him I had First Amendment rights on both sidewalks. I asked, "Where is your supervisor?"

He told me which building to go to and I drove over to that Cook County police station. I went in and talked to the blonde receptionist, Ms. Sullivan. I told her, "I want to talk to a white shirt (Sergeant) about a First Amendment violation in front of Proviso East."

She told me that they don't want me there and Jesus would cooperate with the school officials. She took my name but no one called me back.

Two weeks later, I went back into the Cook County sheriff's building and asked for the white shirt. He was out of the building, but a different receptionist took my information and got it to the Sergeant. The Sergeant tried to get me to go to the school and negotiate with the police officer there.

I said, "No, I want you to call your legal department and get legal advice." An hour later he phoned back and said I have a legal right to be on either sidewalk.

People, I was just demanding that the school and police recognize First Amendment rights of common citizens. Don't let officials get away with bluff and deception.

Facts From p. 4

not enough to give me the whole picture.

So I decided, "Hey, we've got a mystery here," and I've always loved mysteries.

Fifteen years after Bible college it wasn't a mystery anymore. Nor was it a conspiracy theory. Finally, I was able to dig up evidence that led to the facts. And hiding in the shadows was the greatest con artist of all time, the father of lies himself, Satan —with a smirk on his face.

The evidence that I found, verified that these days we really have two Bibles. They are based on two different Greek manuscripts. One is anchored in thousands of documents that bear witness to a coherent history of the Bible.

The other is based on just a few manuscripts that have very questionable histories and have been altered to fit the personal agendas of unsaved writers. On the pretext of updating the authorized King James that had been good for a couple hundred years, a whole new Greek history was introduced, intentionally replacing the previously trusted line of documents.

Now, we really have two basic Bibles.

See Facts p. 7

Facts From p. 6

One is the scorned King James, based on thousands of documents generated by faithful believers over the centuries.

The other one has dozens of variations, all based on a Greek document constructed from a few flawed manuscripts. Some masquerade as translations but only loosely follow the faulty Greek. Others are hardly paraphrases, reading more like commentaries.

It's really been quite a journey. And it's not over yet. But I tried to share with everyone who would listen, what I was learning while I learned it.

When I entered seminary, I trusted the scholars who were my teachers. But when things didn't make sense, they were not able to give good answers. I went deeper and the evidence got even more confusing when I began to study the documents.

Thanks to modern digital research methods only available this century, I was able to see accurate photos of the source documents used in the modern Bibles. I soon learned why they had been hidden for so long. I think that they didn't want anyone to see them.

That led to over a dozen books that tracked the progress of my research. Finally, it led to the deepest mystery of all: who really faked Sinaiticus? It was because of the Sinaiticus that the world finally turned from the King James to the counterfeit manuscripts.

Who Faked the 'World's Oldest Bible?'

reads like a mystery thriller. But it is as serious as a heart attack. Our hope of heaven depends on the accuracy of God's words.

Please read the evidence. Then you decide. God bless you as you investigate.

Chick Mail Bag

Dear Chick Publications,
I was getting my hair cut today and I had a tract wallet on me with some Chick tracts in it. As I was checking out, a man and a woman walked in, and the man had on a black t-shirt with a grim reaper on it. I remembered I had a Hi There! tract on me (which has a picture of a grim reaper on it). So I gave it to him and said, 'Your shirt reminded me of something. Check this out.' What a coincidence! Hopefully this man will come to know Jesus Christ as his personal Lord and Saviour, I pray. Thanks, Chick Publications for making witnessing easy and effective!

Jacob B.

I was saved at the age of 14 by reading the tract someone gave me of Holy Joe. I am looking forward to receiving my catalog and more copies of Holy Joe to share with others. Thank you for continuing to do God's work.

disease syndrome” (AIDS). Later the meaning of the label was further diluted by calling it “human immunodeficiency virus” (HIV). But it is still primarily shared, even today, by promiscuous homosexual practices.

God promised judgment three ways on Israel’s sin: sword (war), famine (food insecurity), and pestilence (pandemics).<sup>1</sup> In the last few decades technology has provided unprecedented prosperity for the largest number of people in the history of the world. But the Old Testament pattern of blessing that leads to prosperity, carries a responsibility of minimizing sinful behavior.

God’s mercy went a long ways in putting up with Israel’s rebellion. But eventually His patience is exhausted. He has His own red line and the Apostle Paul said that the records in the Old Testament where examples for us to know where God’s red line is. (See 1 Corinthians 10:5-12.)

God will not go on financing man’s rebellion. Eventually, He is forced to impose drags on the economy until it cannot carry the load that sin causes. His curse of war costs the US nearly a trillion dollars to finance military defenses and

This is another example of the evils of the counterfeit “church” headquartered at the Vatican. Under the pretense of sharing the good news about Jesus they, instead, promote a lifetime of bondage to rituals that they claim are necessary for eternal life. As during the inquisition, the popes watch for opportunities to piggyback on civil government to promote their system of domination.

Placing these children under the control of unmarried priests and nuns left them devoid of the nurture provided in a normal family. The carnal temptation much more during actual conflict.

God told the Israelites that He would change weather patterns, causing “food insecurity” so more energy would need to be diverted away from sin to simple survival. Pandemics also cut productivity, further reducing surpluses in the economy. Adam sinned and God cursed the ground so that he had to work for his food and had less time to get into trouble.

For those who have ears to hear, the Bible is very clear where we are today in our escalating sin and what God will do about it if we continue down that road. And too few people are choosing to take the off-ramp. We are looking for solutions in all the wrong places.

Some are mimicking John the Baptist and calling for repentance. In fact, Jesus’ first sermon was on repentance. Whether we will heed remains to be seen. But our job is in Mark 16:15: “Go...and preach the gospel,” until He calls us home.

Few of us can stand in public and preach, but Chick tracts make it easy to obey our Commission by passing out a handful of little paper sermons as often as we can.

<sup>1</sup>Jeremiah 21:7, 21:9, 24:10, 27:13, 29:17, 32:24, Ezekiel 5:12, 6:11, and many more.

to power and domination in this situation was left unchecked.

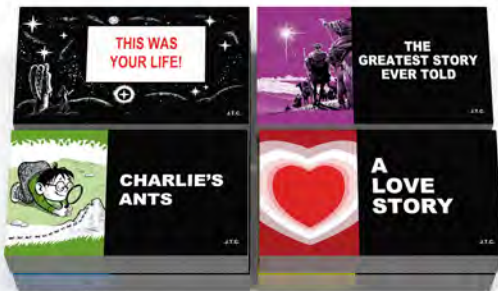

For years, Chick Publications has provided tracts and books exposing the unbiblical deceptions of Roman Catholicism. Today, they masquerade as just another denomination with a little different worship style. This is a smokescreen and needs to be exposed with the clear light of the Bible. The Vatican and its history clearly matches the description of the prostitute church in Revelation 17 and 18.

PAPUA NEW GUINEA

Many of you gave to help provide one million Chick tracts in English and Pidgin for Papua New Guinea. Missionary Chad Wells has been busy with them. In addition to providing them to pastors of the hundreds of little churches in the surrounding villages, he has been doing lots of outreach. Here is a message we just received from him:

Things are going fantastic with the tracts! Lots have been distributed in nearer areas (within a few hours drive). They have also been shipped/flown to other city centers around the country including Wewak, Wau, Kandrian, Lae, Baimuru, and Goroka, to be distributed by our sister churches.

I will send you the pictures that we have gotten from the various outreaches. In Mt. Hagen we did a blitz with our youth and passed out 18,000. Up the highway, in probably 15-20 markets along the way, another 4,000 were distributed. We went to a huge campaign rally (it is our election time) in Ialibu and passed out 10,000. We also took our Bible College students to Mt. Hagen and passed out another 10,000 (a couple of months later).

10,000 people at this political rally received Chick tracts!

We currently have a campaign planned for Mendi (20,000+) and Kundaiwa (20,000+). We still have many other sister churches and missionaries we need to deliver them to, but we have to wait until the election turmoil settles down.

PHILIPPINES

The door continues to be open to the gospel in this nation of thousands of islands. A non-profit group in the Philippines, which does medical, dental and evangelism outreaches, has offered to help us import a full container of Chick tracts. Missionaries and pastors all over the islands are waiting for these tracts to power their street outreaches. With your help, we will fill this container with more than one million Chick tracts, in Filipino and English, the two official languages of the Philippines plus in Cebuano, a major language in the Visayas (central Philippines). At the time of this writing, Filipinos love to read Chick tracts!

More tracts are now being shipped for additional projects, with more requests coming in from missionaries!

ONE MILLION TRACTS FOR THE PHILIPPINES

We have an opportunity to ship a container of one million Chick tracts into the Philippines. Missionaries have asked us to supply these for the use of local pastors who are committed to street evangelism. A local missionary service has offered to help us with the permit and paperwork to forward these boxes to the recipients throughout the islands. Your gifts will make an impact for Jesus that will be felt throughout this Catholic country, while the door is still open!

Missions Report From p. 10

we already have hundreds of thousands of these tracts printed and ready to go. We have learned that open doors do not stay that way forever, so we are pushing the gospel into the Philippines as fast as we can! Thank you for your help.

Missionary Joshua Yun, using tracts you provide to him monthly, writes: “The Filipinos are receiving the tracts gladly as always. By the grace of God, we now have two more missions in Orani and Nueva Vizcaya. Including the church in Taguig City and Limay mission, we now have four preachers (Bible Institute students and graduates) regularly preaching in the local assembly and evangelizing their towns and provinces.

JAPAN

Third-generation Missionary Justin Miller in Japan is using Chick tracts you provided for church plants in several communities. He mentioned a special need that is on his heart. He wrote: “There are over 1 million “hikikomori” in Japan. These are people that have given up on life and never leave their homes. We are hoping to reach these precious people at their homes.”

Thanks to your help, we were able to immediately supply him with the tracts he needs to reach these people.

ISRAEL

The shipment of Chick tracts for Israel finally cleared customs. It was a long and difficult struggle, but they are now going into the hands of the people there. It is legal there to put tracts into mailboxes, so many of the tracts are being distributed that way. Precious Jewish people will read the Gospel without feeling pressured by Jewish leaders (like Jesus was). Over 65,000 Chick tracts were delivered thanks to you. Because of the relentless persecution against him and his family, we will not give the name of this missionary. Since importing tracts into Israel is becoming so difficult, we have begun to print right there, with 40,000 Hebrew-English Royal Affair coming off the press first!

Israel: The tracts finally arrived!

PERU

The 40,000 Chick tracts you provided for ministries in Peru have finally been delivered. Ports worldwide are so congested that everything is taking longer than normal to arrive... but they do finally get there!

These tracts were requested by Missionary Tom Sloan, who runs radio ministries in both Mexico and Peru.

GUYANA

Many thousands of people are fleeing the violence and hunger of Venezuela, and coming into neighboring Guyana. Another 60,000 Spanish tracts to present Jesus to these people have gone to Pastor Zakir Ibrahim along the Demerara River, just upstream of Georgetown. It is very difficult to get tracts into Venezuela, so reaching folks when they flee to Guyana is a perfect opportunity!

KOREA

Missionary Joshua Yun is shuttling back and forth between his church plants in the Philippines and the new one in South Korea. Here, he shares what is happening there: “Members are very active in soul-winning and distributing Gospel tracts. While preaching and distributing tracts in Seoul Station, one of the major places in Korea, one mission organization approached me and told me they would love to learn how to preach the Gospel and win souls. About 20 people came to our church on Saturday to learn and preach the Gospel in Seoul Station.

“Another piece of good news is that a missionary to addicts (alcoholics, drug addicts, gambling addicts) and prisoners approached me because one of his members saw ‘The Long Trip’ tract and she thought it was very plainly explaining the Gospel. To make the long story short, after this, our church is now able to reach out to addicts and prisoners together with Chick Tracts.”

Chick tracts are opening doors in both areas! Thank you for making it possible.

GUATEMALA

Missionary Nancy Henson describes using Chick tracts here: “Its amazing how well these tracts are accepted. The youth sit down on the walkway and begin reading them right there. Then, the friends come and 3 to 4 friends can be seen sitting there all reading the same tract. Sometimes, I have to limit them to one tract per family and I tell them to share the different titles. When you said Chick tracts get read, that is so true. They get read and passed around. One school used them for reading material that day, with a test on the material the next day. I can’t tell you how very much they are appreciated, accepted and passed around. They are like gold seed in the missionary’s hand. Thank you for your generosity.”

INDIA

Another shipment of tracts has reached Lordson Roch in Goa, India. He shares about the result: “Jyothi while searching for a church, got our Chick tracts with our church address. Jyothi and her husband with their two kids came to church, heard the gospel and trusted Christ and have been faithfully attending our church.”

Pastor Roch with Jyothi and her family.

COMING UP:

- We are preparing a shipment of 100,000 Ukrainian tracts that will be added to a container a church is sending to Ukraine.

- A full container (1 million Chick tracts) is being sent to Manila, Philippines. Many missionaries and pastors are waiting!

- More tracts for Missionary Don Cross in Colombia.

- 50,000 tracts to Missionary Lacy Wheeler in Mexico.

- More missionaries keep asking for tracts!

Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

We have a great opportunity.

We have an arrangement that will enable us to ship one million tracts to the Philippines. There are numerous pastors there who are chomping at the bit to get the word of God in tract-form all around their individual areas. And the Philippines is full of isolated places that need the gospel. Some brethren spend much time moving ever further through the many isolated hills and islands to reach the lost with the gospel.

Would you like to be part of this great outreach opportunity that has been presented to us?

We are busy printing up tracts to fill a huge ocean container with tracts bound to a central destination, to be distributed from there in all directions.

If you want to give to the Missions Fund, you will be helping a great gospel push while we have the doors open to the Philippines. It will be a special memory, to have been a part of something so huge in scope and with such potential to reach lost souls. 100% of the money goes to provide those tracts to the missionaries.

God bless you as you give.

In Christ Jesus, and for His service,
